

BROWN

ALUMNI MONTHLY

OCTOBER, 1942 Vol. XLIII, No. 3

CHARTING THE COURSE FOR INVESTED FUNDS

PERSONAL AGENCY SERVICE as rendered by Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company is designed to assist in charting the course for invested funds. It brings to invested capital the collective judgment of our officers whose recommendations are based on time-tested experience.

Whenever a customer meets with us to discuss investment problems, our first question is: "What is the objective of the fund, its responsibilities, purpose and eventual disposition?" While individual objectives vary, the policy and procedure to be followed are based upon the specific requirements of each customer. Once the objective is determined, recommendations of our Investment Committee are rendered promptly, with no delay in securing the benefits of sound group opinion.

The details of investment assistance rendered are described in our book, "Personal Agency Accounts." We suggest that you send for your copy, as it may convince you that group judgment will be of definite assistance to you in handling your investments.

Pawtucket — Providence — Woonsocket

BROWN

ALUMNI MONTHLY

PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND

OCTOBER, 1912

VOL. XLIII

NUMBER 3

► ► "The University Has Been Ready"

► ► WORD raced along the campus grapevine. Over the Brown Network it was broadcast, and bulletin boards and dormitory councilors and fraternity presidents spread the quick summons; a special convocation of the undergraduate body in Sayles Hall the night of Sept. 11.

They crowded in, silent, tense. Everyone knew the reason for this dramatic meeting at short notice, everyone who had read Secretary Stimson's statement of a possible change in War Department policy. And President Wriston had an answer for the questions, rumors, doubts that already were gaining currency.

There were headlines across the nation the day after, and the commentators in type and on the air picked up the challenge Brown's President had hurled. It was an important statement, drawing attention to a situation in the nation's manpower recruitment that needed straightening. Borrowing the words from the Report on Rubber of a day or two before, Dr. Wriston said that in manpower competition between Army, Navy, Selective Service and the War Manpower Commission there were almost as many "errors growing out of procrastinations, indecisions, conflict of authority, clashes of personality, lack of understanding." He urged that Roosevelt establish a single, over-all responsibility.

That press, magazines and radio seized upon his cogent criticism was not surprising. But more than gratifying to Brown men was the way observers pointed out how the University had taken a position of leadership in its thought and action on the war.

What had Brown University done in preparing its students? Their President reminded them as he began his statement on that unforgettable night near the end of the summer semester. We quote directly as he reviewed what had already been outlined from that same Sayles Hall platform:

► BEFORE the war came, the students then attending Brown University were given as clear warnings as possible. In the spring of 1937, I reminded your predecessors that "if war comes and America becomes involved, your lives are at stake." More than once our students were told that the restriction on the use of the American army abroad was a shoddy political maneuver, and that it would disappear the moment a crisis appeared. For example, in September, 1940, I said, "If we enter the war, not only will you fight it, but you will fight it on and over the soil of Europe."

In order to facilitate the preparation for warlike activity, Brown launched and developed an outline survey of types of war service available to students, and brought it to such a state of usefulness that it has been adopted on a national scale under the auspices of the American Council on Education.

For over a year now it has been our steady advice for all physically qualified students to prepare to join the armed forces. For instance, last March, I specifically urged that "every undergraduate should plan to enter the armed service if he can make it physically." We advised you not to think of going into war industry, and not to employ the college opportunity as in any respect a refuge from war service, but exclusively as a means of preparing for more efficient use of your talents in the war effort. Referring to those enrolled in engineering, chemistry, and other technical courses, I said: "There are plenty of needs for specialists in the armed services. That is where men of your age and attainments will be most needed. Do not waste a minute getting ready." Brown men were quick to respond.

I recall with something like savage pleasure a letter received about the time the Selective Service act was passed asking me why it was that college students "seem to hold to a belief that no ideal is worth fighting for." In my judgment, no group of citizens has shown a more patriotic spirit, a greater readiness to sacrifice their personal interests, a more alert realization of the problems they face than the college students of America. And this student body in particular has my unstinted admiration for the rapidity with which they have made their adjustment to swiftly altering circumstances. The same steadiness is now called for.

► BROWN UNIVERSITY has been ready to make any changes necessary. Long before Pearl Harbor our program had been altered to meet the developing crisis. We earnestly sought and secured a Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps. We were among the first to offer the Civilian Pilot Training as soon as it was open to the colleges generally, and also among the first to give advanced aviation training. It was done with a full realization that the program had a military purpose, though that was specifically denied by officials who launched it. In June, 1940, I stated that "many students have signed up for aviation training, knowing how hollow was the pretense of the government that it was civil aviation which it had in mind." We stressed its military importance exclusively. As soon as the V-7 program was announced, Brown vigorously recruited for it, and in the first training course had more students than any other New England college. Many of those recruits are already in battle areas.

Brown was among the first of the colleges to make such alterations in the curriculum as would provide the specialized types of information which might be of service. It was among the first to put its program upon a year-round basis, and is one of the very few to operate with three full semesters with full credit for each of them. We have required all candidates for degrees in Engineering, Chemistry, or Physics to expedite their courses. We have gone so far as to change our whole policy regarding extra-mural teaching and have been giving instruction at the pre-college level to assist in the engineering, science and management war training.

Furthermore, Brown has not opened itself to the criticism uttered yesterday by the Secretary of War, when he spoke of "the present system of mixing a moderate amount of military training with regular college work." We have given no military training except that under the command of regularly commissioned officers of the Navy and in accordance with long-matured policies and practices. We have done precisely what the Secretary recommended; namely, we have had students "carry on with their educational work" and "not dilute it with amateur military work under amateur instructors" because we agree with him that "the military work can be handled so much better under the high pressure system used by the Army."

► Six months ago Mr. Stimson said, "I want to make it entirely clear that higher education . . . when seriously pursued develops qualities which will be a definite advantage to any man in the Army." The Secretary listed definite capacities which "make a man more valuable as a leader and which can be substantially increased by proper education in the college." The Secretary also stated that "certain special courses can be of great value . . . in special branches of the Army and competence in such specialties will be a considerable factor in determining the qualifications of a man for advancement."

At the same time similar counsel was offered by the Navy in an official pamphlet: "The Navy wishes to reassert the primary importance of a well rounded academic education as the basis for developing capacity for sound, incisive and well ordered thought and expression. Nothing should impair this." It was reiterated again and again that the college can develop talents and qualities of leadership which are absolutely essential in the war effort.

Brown University accepted these statements at face value. Following the direction of President Roosevelt, we have encouraged students to feel "that it is their patriotic duty to continue their education, unless and until they are called, so that they will be well prepared for greatest usefulness to their country."

Mr. Stimson rightly says that the students were encouraged to join the E.R.C., because of the War Department's "belief that the training afforded by study at colleges was useful for their preparation for service in the armed forces and that a substantial number of those enlisted would prove qualified for selection as candidates for training as officers." The administration at Brown University has long urged that steps be taken which would make it possible for any qualified young man, without reference to his financial ability, to get that training. Within the limits of its resources, this University has made that kind of provision. The Federal Government has been negligent and must take the entire responsibility for any failure to open these opportunities upon an absolutely democratic basis.

► In following the mandates of the military departments, however, we have had to turn a deaf ear to many contradictory demands. Ever since the advent of the crisis, public officials and military officers have directed at the colleges and their students a series of conflicting statements, warnings, threats, and advices at frequent intervals. We have been subjected to such a confusing barrage of advice and instruction that it has been made needlessly difficult to plan. Instead of relieving this disorder, the War Manpower Commission simply added one more element of confusion to the Selective Service, the Army, and the Navy programs.

One high official says stay in college; another implies that the college is a refuge from the draft. One advocates that all manpower be secured through the Selective Service system; another department wants only volunteers and makes special inducements to get them. Students, while encouraged to stay in college, are subject to constant appeals by poster and radio to join now, to go into active service rather than stay in a reserve category for further preparation for greater military usefulness.

SHOPPER: Allen F. Rust of Pittsburgh, Pa., buys his Freshman dink from Bookstore Manager Chester Clayton '39 as the Fall Term opens at Brown.

The fruits of those contradictory advices have been confusion of official policy and competition among official agencies. While deprecating the existence of that competition, which has seriously impaired the orderly mobilization of college manpower, we have nonetheless been hospitable to the rival recruiting officers from the various services.

Bidding against each other has led to official intimations that college study could be used as a temporary refuge from military service. Recently the Navy sent us a poster: "Freshmen! Sophomores! Stay in college and become a naval officer." We have declined to display the poster, feeling it was based upon an entirely false approach to the problem. Substantially the same appeal, however, has been used by the Marine Corps and the Army Air Forces in various approaches to the students.

Now, according to the statement of the Secretary of War, instead of pressing for the more complete training of those who have officer-like capacities, he proposes to take advantage of the enlistment of students in the E.R.C. to bring them to active service actually ahead of the time provided by the draft. No one should complain that this brings him personal hardship, but it is a clear reversal of War Department policy. . . .

► The War pursues its inevitable course and every student should once again review his circumstances, which are as follows:

1. Every man physically qualified should prepare himself for the armed services. That has been our policy since war began. Immediately after the declaration of war in December, I warned that "I would not lift a finger to keep you or any other boy out of the military service. I expect and hope that you will have posts not only of difficulty but of danger. However, if you go into those posts without adequate preparation, you not only sacrifice your lives, but you do it needlessly and uselessly" and we do not have lives to waste." We will do everything possible, with or without official guidance, to get you ready.

2. Every man should prepare himself by following the intellectual disciplines offered by the college with intensity and concentration.

3. He should keep himself physically fit and participate in the Fitness Program.

4. Students should recognize that this current statement by the Secretary of War, like so many previous ones, is prediction and opinion rather than a definite program. The Secretary's statement has in no way modified the essential status of students in the E.R.C. It has always been known that reservists might be called to active duty; now there is merely a current opinion, expressed by Secretary Stimson, that this action may occur for some of you early in 1943. Under the circumstances a student has no real choice but to continue with his present occupation—that of being a student, doing as well as he can at that occupation until he is called to more obvious and active participation in the war effort.

5. He should rest assured that the University is taking as many contingencies into account as possible, and thus far has made with great promptness every change in its program upon which there has been anything like a consensus of military opinion. . . .

The colleges can perform an important function in assisting the Government. They stand ready to do that. They have been told many things not to do, but no one is now in a position to tell them what to do. Neither the War Department nor the Navy Department can make effective use of the facilities of the American colleges until there is agreement in Washington as to what that use should be.

Two things are needful. For you, a renewed dedication to the service of your country, manifested in a steady and a steadfast concentration upon the job you are now doing. For the Nation the need is administrative reform at the center, and then a clear directive to the colleges. Only thus can the colleges, which have already done so much, fully discharge the public service they are eager to render. ◀

Alumni Day Plans ◀

▶ ▶ "DROP in on Alumni Day," urged the handbill in the mail early this month, itemizing an attractive program for the Brunonian who in this war year is still able to return to the company and atmosphere of his Alma Mater. The day is Saturday, Oct. 17, with virtually the entire schedule consolidated on that afternoon and evening.

The weekend is that of the Brown-Lafayette Varsity football game in Providence. After that contest the alumni have been invited to cross the street to the Marvel Gymnasium for a social hour, buffet supper at 6, and program of speakers and what the handbill lists as "interruptions." An innovation is the fact that, for the first time in the history of Alumni Day, the Brunonians are urged to bring their wives and other friends. A special welcome awaits the ladies.

Linus Travers '27, vice-president of the Yankee Network, a radio kingpin who has enlivened more than one Brown party, will lead off the array of speakers. He will be followed by the Rev. Raymond S. Hall '31, popularly known as the "Paratroop Parson" because of his jumping chaplaincy of a parachute force. Permitted by his divisional commander to make the trip from his Southern encampment, he will represent the 2000 Brown alumni in service. The climax will come in the address of President Wriston, who commands more of a national audience with each new speech of his.

President William P. Burnham '07, of the Associated Alumni, will present the toastmaster of the evening, Roger T. Clapp '19, Providence attorney. Some things which will happen under his direction are a secret with him and the committee, but he has allotted time for an appropriate recognition of the fact that 1942 is the 100th anniversary of founding of an alumni organization at Brown. Alumni Fund Chairman Arthur L. Philbrick '03 will also continue the custom of awarding the Trustees' Bowl to the class which made the outstanding record in the campaign ended July 31. (Last year's winner was 1907.) Since the University Corporation will have met the day before Alumni Day, the committee hopes to present the two candidates elected in the special Trustee election this fall.

It goes without saying that there will be music, cheers, a compliment to Coach Stahley and the football squad, and enough other features to pepper the party with variety and still send the crowd home happy and early. Adequate amplification is promised by the operator of a public address system to be installed for the night.

One other event will complete the Alumni Day weekend—the annual regatta for the Thurber Trophy, a colorful series of dinghy races at the Brown Boathouse on the Seekonk River, early Sunday afternoon, Oct. 18. Since the alumni and the undergraduates are tied at three triumphs each, the 1942 regatta will be the "rubber".

The Providence Brown Club and its Executive Committee are assisting the Alumni Day Committee, headed by Alexander T. Hindmarsh '19. His other aides include: Victor A. Schwartz '07, J. Harold Williams '18, Nelson B. Jones '28, Carleton Goff '24, A. W. Calder, Jr. '28, Paul H. Hodge '28, Edward T. Richards '27, Theodore R. Jeffers '23, Elmer S. Horton '10, Louis A. R. Pieri '20, H. Stanton Smith '21, Alton C. Chick '19, Treasurer, Thomas W. Taylor '25, Walter V. Moriarty '20, Shirley S. Elsbree '25, W. Stanley Barrett '21, Fred A. Otis '03, Ray B. Owen '30, and W. Chesley Worthington '23, Secretary.

Early expectations were that the turnout would be sizeable, and ticket reservations included those for Eugene W. O'Brien '19 of Atlanta, Ga., and H. N. Couden '34 of Kent, Wash.

Pointing out the necessity of making reservations for the supper in advance, the committee said that catering difficulties this year compelled them to limit strictly the number of tickets available to 500. Recalling that in 1941 the dinner began on the dot and finished right on schedule, Mr. Hindmarsh said supper would be available promptly at 6 and the program would be under way at 7.

Gilbert and Sullivan

▶ THE Gilbert and Sullivan Group of Brown University will present The Sorcerer Nov. 4 (matinee only), 5, 6, and 7 at 8:30 p. m. in Faunce House theatre. Of special interest is the fact that this early comic operetta will be given in contemporary costume. Mr. William Dinneen of the department of Music is directing the production for the Committee on Dramatic Productions. ◀

Club Feature Dates

▶ HEADLINE dates with the Brown Clubs for the fall include: Oct. 22—First fall meeting of the New York Brown Club, Alexander Gardiner '14, chairman. Oct. 23—Philadelphia Brown Club, pre-Princeton game dinner. Nov. 13—Boston Brown Club. Brown-Harvard Game Smoker. ◀

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

They Earned Their "E"

► ► THIS war's honor roll will not be limited to the men in the armed services, for so many civilian activities are vital, too. We've been noticing, for instance, the number of alumni whose companies have received Army and Navy "E's" in token of industrial war contribution, men like Arthur B. Homer '15, Vice-President of Bethlehem Steel and shipbuilding boss.

One of the first to receive the new joint Army-Navy Production Award was the Greenfield Tap and Die Corp. in Massachusetts, whose president is Donald G. Millar '19. GTAD has expanded rapidly in its war service, with a million-dollar addition to its gage plant, another $350,000 expansion for gage production, and $420,000 to speed the output of taps. President Millar had an added satisfaction on the day of the presentation when the War Department sent as an official representative Major Kenneth D. Johnson, classmate and battymate in France during the last war.

"Quality and quantity of production in the light of available facilities" brought the Builders Iron Foundry of Providence the Army-Navy "E" on Aug. 24. The plant now flies the coveted pennant, and its employees wear a pin with the same "E" symbol on it. Henry S. Chafee '80, treasurer, represented the company of which his father, Zechariah Chafee '80, is president. We take an especial delight in this award, for it is at the Builders Iron Foundry that the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY has long found appreciated office space for advertising, circulation, and general business operations.

Firms selected to receive the new award won recognition on the basis of several factors, among which are "maintenance of a steady flow of production, the overcoming of serious obstacles, and the maintenance of healthy working conditions and relationships."

There was another Brunonian tinge to the ceremonies at the Abrasive Machine Tool Company in Providence when it received its Army-Navy "E" Aug. 29. C. Gordon MacLeod '15 is Secretary-Treasurer of this East Providence company, which his father founded and of which his brother Norman is President. The late Kenneth B. MacLeod '18 was Vice-President. Former Governor Robert E. Quinn '15, now a Lieutenant Commander in the Naval Reserve, awarded the "E" pins, while Leon E. Smith '12, President of the East Providence Town Council, added his official congratulations.

Early in the war, when the Navy was awarding an "E" and the Army an "A" for production achievement, Brown and Sharpe Mfg. Co. of Providence received both of these independent awards. Its President is Henry D. Sharpe '94, Chancellor of the University.

The War Records Bureau of the Alumni Office would like to know of other instances where alumni have been instrumental in maintaining their company's war work at a level so high as to gain similar recognition. ◀ ◀

Graduated into the War

► ► WHAT happens to a class that graduates into a war? Such a class was 1942, and the Alumni Office has been finding out about its members, with information on 258 men. The graduate record blanks they filled out and returned showed, less than five months after graduation, 184 or 71% were in the armed services. Another 21% were definitely linked with the war in their work, making a total of 238 of 258, or 92%.

The list was only one shy of showing 100 in the Army, for 45 were in the Air Corps, 16 in the Signal Corps, 11 in the Medical Corps, and 27 in miscellaneous categories. Of the Navy's 68, 14 were in the Air Corps and 13 in Midshipman's School. Eight were in the Marines and nine in the Coast Guard.

Of 31 in industrial or governmental war jobs, 10 were in airplane manufacturing and six in explosives. Thirty-two were in graduate schools, 14 of them medical, three dental, three theological students and five teaching. Of these, 23 had reserve commissions or a distinct war relation. In business or furnishing incomplete information were 11. As one member of the class pointed out, some of those sending incomplete blanks may be awaiting service, and others may have been disqualified from service for physical or other reasons, although desirous of enlisting. But it makes an interesting picture of a "war class."

The information was compiled on the standard graduate record blank of the Alumni Office, which provides a space for "Nature of Firm's Business." Their "firms" (the Army and Navy) are engaged in: "Fighting," "Axis-Smashing," "Winning the War," "At present, successful prosecution of the war," "War for Victory and Peace," "Killing," "All-Out War," "Varied" (a Navy man), and "Temporary. I hope." ◀ ◀

A Commencement in the Fall

► FOR the first time since 1869, Brown University was to hold a fall Commencement this year for students who had completed their work during the University's wartime summer session. The exercises were to be held Oct. 5, as part of a morning convocation which would also mark the opening of the fall term. The October convocation, in true Brown tradition, would be held in the First Baptist Meeting House and would take the place of separate convocations previously announced for Brown and Pembroke College. President Wriston was to be the speaker and confer the degrees.

Graduation will take place three times a year under the acceleration of studies at Brown. The largest class will receive degrees in midwinter, at which time student valedictorians would speak for the Seniors. Alumni participation would be directed toward the spring Commencement as usual, with the prospect of alumni being able to enter the Meeting House for the graduation ceremonies. This would normally have been the 175th annual Commencement at Brown. ◀

"Accelerating and Liking It"

► BROWN's wartime summer session was a real, serious success apparently. That seems to be the opinion of students, Faculty and Administration.

Having devoted the summer issue of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY to the University under its acceleration, the Editor sees little point in going back over that ground again but would like to quote from an editorial in the Brown Daily Herald, which provides a good student estimate:

"It has been very hot, now that we think of it, but somehow at the time the heat never seemed oppressive. Perhaps the plan of keeping us ever on the job has made us oblivious of the temperature. We find it hard to remember noticing the heat, when we were busy working. . . . Now that we've passed the midpoint of this summer semester and have looked back, we think we have adapted ourselves rather well. We are not just doing as well as can be expected. We are accelerating and liking it." ◀

Football Coming Up ◀

▶ ▶ READY to spring a "Secret Weapon" in his own improvement on the "T" formation, Skip Stahley is looking forward with confidence to his second season as Varsity football coach at Brown with the largest squad in many a year on the Hill. With a fair supply of experienced campaigners and some rugged Sophomores among his men, he had grounds for optimism, although the 1942 schedule looked tough. On it were some of the East's most formidable teams: Rhode Island State, Columbia, Lafayette, Princeton, Yale, Holy Cross, Harvard, and Colgate, these opponents being listed in the order of their booking.

At least 12 of the men who might have been on the Brunonian squad this year were in the fighting forces of the United States before the football whistle blew (one of them, Lt. Joseph E. Hand '43 had given his life). And virtually all of the upperclassmen had enlisted in one or another reserve branch of the armed services, committed to preparing themselves for the war. Nevertheless, football is still on the books for 1942, and Stahley had shaped a promising team in the time allotted to him.

His squad had added depth through the new eligibility of Freshmen for Varsity competition, and a Junior Varsity schedule against Yale, Rhode Island, Dartmouth, Worcester Academy, Harvard, and Holy Cross would give assurance of action for the understudies.

▶ Brown's outstanding backfield squad needs little introduction to followers of the Bear. Bob Margarita, Doc Savage, Roy Swingler, Bruce Remick, Jay Pattee, and Charlie Bentley are again on hand. "These brilliant backs would have stood out even more prominently last fall," wrote Arthur Sampson of the Boston Herald, "if they had had the benefit of a little more blocking punch up in the line." (There are newcomers to that forward wall who won't give away so much weight this season.)

Margarita proved his worth as a nimble, aggressive climax runner who likes the open field. Savage has a pitching arm to add to his drive, speed and defensive worth. Swingler is the elusive carrier who was handicapped most of 1941 by injuries but showed his wares in returning a Harvard kickoff 87 yards. Bentley and Pattee are blockers, the latter specializing, too, in after-touchdown points, while Remick is a little heavier this fall and should hit harder in consequence.

Another back who showed promise not only as a punter is Jack Bowen, a transfer from Georgetown who started in the spring game against the Coast Guard. Of last year's Freshmen, Stahley is watching Bob Babcock, a passer, Lou DeAngelis, and Roger Bestor. "Don't count on too much from the new crop of Freshmen before November," Stahley warns, but they included likely boys in Howie Extract, whose New York reputation was good, Rhody Morean, who played no football in high school but is responding astonishingly to coaching at Brown, Murphy, and Tiedemann.

▶ THREE ends are veterans: Stew MacNeill and George Hindmarsh, whose fathers were stars before them, and Oscar Milner. The wing squad gets more depth than it had a year ago with the addition of Bob Smith, a big Brockton product of Arthur Staff, Alan Collier and Harper Brown, up from the Freshmen. Veteran George Delaney was a late reporter.

In the tackle spot we start off with Jay Fidler, Don Corzine, and Max Montgomery, lettermen from last autumn, who should be difficult to dislodge on the basis of past performances. But Brad Campbell and Del Pitman have been in the picture, both Sophomores, and a pair of Freshmen, Ray Cross and especially Harold Smith, are real prospects.

An injury has pushed Tony Rotelli, veteran guard, out of action, but Phil Down, Freshman captain two years ago, has returned to college. Phil Teschner, John Wattles, and Jim Feinberg (son of Barney) looked competent as yearlings and are working well, as is Bob Margarita's kid brother, Tilo, and Carlisle, other guards. A new spark in the centre of this array in the line is Lou Regine, who captained the Cubs of last fall and may prove as colorfully effective in major company. Pre-season scouts from the metropolitan papers liked his temperament and workmanship. Karafotias and Ashley are upperclass contestants.

▶ AN unusual practice schedule resulted from Brown's accelerated program of three semesters a year. An intensive four-week workout last spring had its climax in the full-dress victory over the Coast Guard Academy, against which Coach Stahley used his newly-taught "T" only in its simplest forms. During July he drilled 30 men, most of them "summer-Freshmen", in basic work, and September saw another series of workouts, participated in largely by athletes who had not been in college during the voluntary summer "semester." Most of the men in school could devote little further time to football until their final examinations were out of the way, and it wasn't until the week of the Rhode Island game that the full squad was on hand. The coaches found the men in better than usual physical trim, however, thanks in part to the stiff physical fitness routine under Navy auspices in the summer season.

Replacements in the coaching staff were made necessary when the Army called Hal Kopp for service in England and Frank Souhak was inducted into the Navy. Tippy Dye left at the end of August to return in a coaching capacity to his Alma Mater, Ohio State. Brown is fortunate, though, in having brought Charles ("Rip") Engle on from Western Maryland, where Stahley had also coached. Roland K. Brown, tackle on Brown's great 1932 eleven, moves back to college football after coaching at Worcester Academy, while Don Hensley was recalled from business to help with the line. Latest addition was "Bud" Hoban, Dartmouth '12, who coached last year at the University of Mexico and has scouted for Dick Harlow and George Munger, observed officials for the Eastern Intercollegiate Association, and runs the Camp Wallula where Leo Barry and a dozen of his swimming proteges at Brown have helped him with his hobby of boys' work. His brother is the new coach at Lehigh this year. He'll coach the Junior Varsity.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

First indication of the 1942 Varsity's power came in an unofficial game with the team from the Quonset Naval Air Station, which Brown won by four touchdowns. Since the public was barred, the possibilities of the new "T" had a real going over, and it packed lots of deception that gave new value to the team's speed. Unlike most formations stemming from the classic "T", Stahley's version uses an unbalanced line with the ends wide. The fullback or left halfback handles the ball, with the quarter calling signals (sometimes without a huddle) and blocking. Since the Bear's backfield is a bit short on power, the formation is designed to capitalize the swift running, and smart ball-handling of the men.

Dean Arnold as Co-ordinator

► DR. SAMUEL T. ARNOLD '13, Dean of the College, has been designated by President Wriston as Co-ordinator of the War Effort at Brown University. His office thus becomes the centre of the varied military activities on the campus, of which the Army, Navy, Marine, and Coast Guard Reserve Corps groups are a principal part.

In his new position, Dean Arnold works through the Admissions Office to assist students in choosing the reserve status for which he is best qualified and in which he is most needed. The military history of all undergraduate students is maintained there, too, in co-operation with the Recorder's Office. The Physical Fitness program, the Department of Health, and the Division of War Training Courses are also co-ordinated under Dean Arnold, with the aid of Dean Edgar J. Lanpher, Dean William K. Selden, Dean Edwin M. J. Kretzmann, and Dr. John W. Lederle.

Summer Sports Results

► VARSITY BASEBALL -- Newport Naval Training Station, lost 8-0, 7-3. Quonset Naval Air Station, won 3-1, 3-1. Providence College, lost 2-0, 2-1. Air Cobras, won 14-4. Colgate, lost 4-3. Harvard, won 1-0, lost 15-1. Fort Adams, won 7-2. Camp Edwards, tie 3-3. Dartmouth, lost 6-0, 6-0. First Corps Area, won 2-0. U. S. S. Constellation, lost 14-3. Coast Guard Bears, lost 7-0, won 3-1. Won 8, lost 11, tied 1.

► VARSITY GOLF -- Wannamoisett, lost 7-2, won 5-4. Colgate, lost 8-1, 5¹ 2-3¹ 2. Agawam Hunt, won 5-4, 6-3. Metacomet, lost 6-3, won 5-4. Pawtucket, tie 4¹ 2-4¹ 2, won 5¹ 2-3¹ 2. Rhode Island C. C., won 6-3, lost 5-4. Warwick Neck, lost 5-4, won 7¹ 2-1¹ 2. Won 7, lost 6, tied 1. (Club teams were made up mostly of Brown alumni.) VARSITY TENNIS -- Colgate, lost 7-2. Agawam Hunt, lost 7-3, 7-2. East Side T. C., lost 8-4, 5-3. Providence Journal, won 5-2. Won 1, lost 5.

To England's Universities

► GREETINGS from Brown University to the universities of Great Britain went out over a special shortwave broadcast from Station WRUL in Boston late in May, and acknowledgments have been cordial.

A Brown graduate in London, Arthur F. Newell, '12 was enlisted to aid the station in notifying the many provincial universities of the projected broadcast. A cable was sent to Newell by his son, Arthur F. junior, Brown 1938 of the WRUL staff asking that the different universities be told of the time of the program. The elder Newell is President of the American Outpost in London, an organization which acts as a sort of unofficial library of American information in London, so the job was right up his alley.

Brown Football Broadcasts

► AT least five of the Brown Varsity football games will be broadcast this fall, according to present plans of the Atlantic Refining Company, it was learned as this issue went to press. Schedule called for airing the Lafayette game, Oct. 17 (WEAN, Providence); Princeton game, Oct. 24 (WOR, WBOC, WEAN, WFBR, Baltimore, and WJEJ); Holy Cross game, Nov. 7 (WEAN); Harvard game, Nov. 14 (Yankee Network); Colgate game, Nov. 26 (WEAN). Kickoff at Princeton is 3 p. m., against Colgate 11 a. m., all others at 2:30. Coach Stahley is to be interviewed by Joe Hasel over the BLU network Oct. 9 at 7:30.

The Providence Brown Club announced that it would inaugurate its fourth season of football luncheons with movies of the Rhode Island game to be shown in the Garden Restaurant of the Providence Biltmore Hotel on Wednesday, Oct. 7 and commentary by the Coaches.

Lewis S. Milner '02 was revealed at last winter's football dinner as the "anonymous donor" who had made possible the use of public address equipment at home games last fall. It was announced that he was giving a new system to the Athletic Council. When some of the desired equipment was "frozen" under war rulings, Mr. Milner made it possible for the Athletic Council to hire again the apparatus of 1941 for home games this season.

The Athletic Council has acknowledged two other benefactions by loyal alumni: From J. Richmond Fales '10 it received a whirlpool bath for the athletes' use. From William A. Harris '97 of Springfield, Mass., came a check to supplement a previous gift from the Class of 1925, so that movie equipment was purchased for taking game pictures for the use of the coaches, squad, and Brown Clubs.

Parking facilities for bicycle riders were to be provided this fall at Brown Field, Athletic Director Thomas W. Taylor announced.

Frederick "Jerry" Jerome, Providence sports writer, is handling Brown athletic publicity this fall.

► ► Brunonians Far and Near

By ALFRED H. GURNEY '07

1875

► ► FOLLOWING close upon a letter from Dr. Samuel LeNord Caldwell bringing his biography to date came the news from Honolulu that Dr. Caldwell died there Sept. 2. In his letter he said that he had moved from the Halekulani Hotel to the Queen's Hospital in Honolulu, where he lived for several years after half a century in Colorado Springs, Colo. He was a great traveler, and his notes, telling of his goings and comings, were always a delight to the Alumni Office staff.

1882

Dr. Frederick Luther Gamage, acting headmaster of Pawling School, Pawling, N. Y., has closed the school for the duration because his headmaster, Alan L. Chidsey, and five of six masters have gone off to the war. Gamage retired as headmaster in 1932, but came back to duty shortly after this country went to war. His school, which has sent boys to all the best known eastern colleges since its founding in 1907, had 105 students last term.

1885

Although he has retired as prior of Portsmouth Priory, which he opened in 1926 for his monastic order of St. Benedict, Rev. J. Hugh Diman will continue as a member of the Priory Faculty. Fifty years a teacher and counsellor of young men, Fr. Diman was founder and headmaster of St. George's School, Middletown, and twice president of the Harvard Teachers' Association. He resigned from St. George's in 1917 to take up the study of Catholicism, leading to his ordination into the Benedictine Order in 1923.

Writing from Santa Barbara, Calif., in late July, Orray Taft reported he was "breaking up keeping house" and that his place of abode "for the future is various and uncertain."

1888

Albert Burke Cook is editor, compiler and annotator of "Notes on the Life and Voyages of Capt. Thomas M. Pease," which have been appearing in the Vineyard Gazette, Martha's Vineyard, Mass. "Mr. Cook is a grandson of Captain Pease, and is a graduate of Brown University," said an editorial note printed with the first installment in the Gazette of August 28. "He was born at Meshacket and spent his boyhood on the Vineyard. His home is in Atlantic, and a visit which he made to the Island this summer was his first in many years. Besides a strong feeling for the scenes and people of his childhood, Mr. Cook has knowledge of whaling and whaling lives drawn from original sources long ago, sources permanently closed to newer generations."

1891

George J. Holden has been re-elected president of the American Dental Trade Association.

1893

Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn is head of the committee of 27 persons named by the U. S. Department of Labor "to recommend a minimum wage rate in the printing, publishing and allied graphic arts industry." The committee, representing equally the public, employers and employees, has been meeting in New York. Of Kenneth S. Davis, who dedicated to Meiklejohn his novel "In the Forests of the Night," our classmate wrote from Washington: "Davis is a favorite pupil of mine at Wisconsin, very intelligent and with a genuine gift for writing. His story seems to me a really first rate bit of fictional analysis of human circumstance and behavior. . . . I am glad you have seen it."

Rev. Leonard A. Therrien "has definitely left Feller Institute (Grande Ligne, Quebec) except as a member of the Board of Directors." He was at Feller 40 years, 18 of them as principal. When he wrote in August he said that there was a possibility that the War Department at Ottawa would take over the Institute as a school for officer candidates in Army Administration. Now he is at Marieville, Que., "happy as pastor of a modest rural French Baptist Church."

1894

Newly named member of the Fifty Year Club of Martha's Vineyard is Col. H. Anthony Dyer "whose first experiences on the Vineyard were in childhood, when he stayed at the cottage of his great grandfather, Hezekiah Anthony, at what is now Oak Bluffs." So the Vineyard Gazette reported late in summer, citing Dyer's reputation as an artist and quoting his question whether or not "Edgartown may be getting too white." About time for a little more color, he thought.

The Fred W. Marvel Medal, given yearly to a Rhode Island Boy Scout "for scouting and leadership qualities during Recall Week," was won this year by Robert S. Chamberlain of Westerly. "The medal," said the Providence Journal news story, "is Camp Yawgoog's highest individual award for the season. Chamberlain also was the recipient of an Eagle badge."

The John Hope Community Centre Association, named in memory of our late classmate, Dr. John Hope, president of Atlanta University at the time of his death, has been carrying on an emergency fund drive in Providence to raise funds for its war work. The association, the Providence Journal said, "is the only social welfare agency in the city engaged in a specialized recreational program in the interests of Negroes." It operates a day nursery, provides opportunity for sports, arts and crafts, dramatics, music and forum discussion. Its Centre is also in use as a USO auxiliary headquarters for Negroes of the armed forces.

1896

Wesley E. Monk, general counsel of Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., with his offices in Springfield, Mass., has been elected a director of the company. He is also serving on the agency committee and the committee on death claims.

When Rev. and Mrs. Henry Felton Huse observed their 41st wedding anniversary at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church, Springvale, Me., in July, their friends and neighbors in Springvale gave them a surprise party and made them various gifts. Huse, who recently retired from active preaching, was pastor of Springvale church from 1906 to 1916.

1897

The story of the late Dr. Marcus Ward Lyon, Jr.'s work as zoologist, bacteriologist and pathologist has been reprinted from the American Midland Naturalist of May, 1942, for distribution to friends and fellow workers. It contains an excellent picture of Dr. Lyon, a full bibliography, and recounts simply and understandingly Lyon's scientific interests, dating from his boyhood days, his "great love of the outdoors," his "congenial nature, sense of humor, and great personal interest in the activities of his scientific colleagues." Theodor Just, editor of the American Midland Naturalist and Lyon's friend and co-worker, is the author.

Wilbur A. Scott, veteran of the Rhode Island House of Representatives of which he has been Republican member from the 25th Providence District since 1927, declined renomination this year because of illness in his family.

Caricatures of Napoleon given to Brown by Paul R. Bullard last spring attracted a great deal of comment when put on view for the summer in the John Hay Library's special collection room.

1899

Dwight H. Hall's son, Frederic Henry Hall '42 and Miss Joyce Amy Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Bennett, were married in Barrington, Sept. 12, 1942. Mrs. Hall attended Pembroke College and St. Mary's School, London, England.

The Alumni Office has received news of the death of Benjamin F. Haines in Altamonte Springs, Fla., July 3, 1942. A son is Webber B. Haines '27, former member of the Brown football team.

Judge Ralph C. Estes of the Fourth District Court, Bristol County, Massachusetts, is completing his 15th year on that bench. He was a special justice of the Court for seven years before becoming justice.

1900

Rev. Herbert E. B. Case, in service of the American Board of Foreign Missions for 38 years—six years in Guam, Micronesia, and 32 in the foreign department as secretary in the home office, Boston, retired at the end of August. He expects to occupy himself with his hobbies and to make himself as generally useful as possible. Mr. and Mrs. Case, whose mail address is 20 Ware Rd., Auburndale, Mass., have two sons in service, Roger H. Case '27, Staff Sergeant at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and now in Officers' School, Duke University, and Raymond Case, Sergeant at Fort Devens, Mass. Mrs. Case was Ada Rogers '02, Pembroke College.

N. A. Tufts is the new resident manager of Hotel Victoria, 7th Ave. and 51st St., New York, "where Times Square meets Radio City."

Your Secretary records with regret the deaths of Walter Hayes Detmers in Buffalo, N. Y., July 18, 1942, and of Norman Allen Moss in Portland, Me., Sept. 11, 1942, and gives to their families the earnest sympathy of the Class.

1901

H. T. Waller is in charge of the Akron, O., area fair rent section of OPA, with a staff of 22 men and women working with him. In the first 11 weeks that the office was operating, 30,000 houses were registered, and the staff was beginning to go to work on rooming houses and hotels. In the same period, he and his assistants interviewed 21,035 individuals, received 20,350 telephone calls and 13,933 pieces of mail, and sent out 47,190 pieces of mail, said a news story in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

1902

Senator Alfred G. Chaffee of Scituate, member of the Rhode Island Senate since 1928 and one of its influential leaders during the past 10 years, has notified his Republican Town Committee that he will not run again. He intends to give his whole time to his legal practice.

S. Foster Hunt, foreign sales manager of Nicholson File Co., Providence, since 1919, has become a vice-president of the company.

Albert Wesley Hopkins, who died in Pondville Hospital, Wrentham, Mass., Nov. 10, 1941, spent three years on the Hill before withdrawing to enter the advertising department of Brown & Sharpe Mfg. Co. Then he went into business with his father, Benjamin F. Hopkins, whose hardware, hay, grain, and farm supplies store was well established in Olneyville. Under the name of B. F. & A. W. Hopkins, the partnership later dealt in auto trucks and accessories. Hopkins, native of Hopedale, Mass., where he was born July 22, 1880, married Miss May Norcliffe on Aug. 1, 1904. Mrs. Hopkins died in August, 1941, three months before her husband.

1905

Dr. Judson A. Crane has begun his duties as Dean of the School of Law, University of Pittsburgh, where he has been teaching since 1917. Member of the Allegheny County Bar and Bar Association, he is at present chairman of the Committee on Legal Institutes and vice-chairman of the Committee on Legislation. He also belongs to the Pennsylvania Bar Association and is co-editor of the Pennsylvania Bar Quarterly. Another post which takes considerable of his time and thought is vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees of the First Baptist Church of Pittsburgh.

Warren A. Whitney is rent administrator of Worcester County Defense Area, with his offices on the second floor of the State Mutual Bldg., Worcester, Mass. He came out of a short retirement as president and treasurer of George C. Whitney Co., valentine makers, to take over his present post.

Albert A. Deal reports his new mail address is 250 West 78th St., New York.

1906

President Albert W. Claflin of Rhode Island College of Pharmacy has been re-elected President of the Claflin Family Association which held its 88th annual reunion in midsummer in Boston instead of at the Claflin homestead in Wrenham, Mass. The change was made to conserve rubber and gasoline. The association voted to establish a Claflin Scholarship at Boston University, of which Lee Claflin of Milford was one of the three founders.

John Howard Collier is the newly appointed sales manager of Nicholson File Co., Providence. He's been with the company since 1906, starting as sales representative throughout the South and Southwest and then becoming assistant sales manager.

Henry R. Hobson has changed his address to the University Club, Washington, D. C., from Punta Gorda, Calif., according to a letter he wrote W. A. Kennedy, our Alumni Fund Class Agent.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

1907

Rev. Dr. Eugene C. Carder, associate minister of Riverside Church, is acting as counsellor to Protestant students on the Columbia University campus this academic year. He takes the place of Rev. Robert G. Andrus, now in the Navy as a chaplain. Carder, chaplain in the Army in the First World War, will end his work at Riverside Church early next year to become full time secretary of the Turrell Fund.

Ensign and Mrs. John Laing Clark announced the birth of a son July 29, 1942, at Wyman House, Cambridge, Mass. Ensign Clark is Homer M. Clark's son.

Prof. Albert E. White, director of the Department of Engineering Research, University of Michigan, has been nominated as a manager of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Fred S. Auty, with U. S. Department of Justice, Anti-Trust Division, is now working out of San Francisco, where his office is at 422 Post Office Bldg. Fred and Mrs. Auty have an apartment (514) at 601 O'Farrell St. "Like the idea of 'The Ladies Who Came to Breakfast' at reunion," Fred wrote Al Gurney. "Movie producers should make something out of that. Why don't you dash off a script?"

Thomas R. Marshall, director of Pennsylvania Lumbermens Mutual Fire Insurance Co., is a member of the company's finance committee.

Prof. Z. Chafee, Jr., and Mrs. Chafee of Cambridge, Mass., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ellen Chafee, to John Thomas Blackwell, also of Cambridge. Miss Chafee is a graduate of Smith College; Mr. Blackwell of Harvard.

"The big news in our family is that our boy is in the Army," Myron H. S. Affleck wrote from Portland, Me., early in September. "He is at Camp McCoy, near Sparta, Wis., in the 654th Engineers—a 'high private' in the Cartography Section. . . . On Aug. 15, in Detroit, Bill was married to Miss Nancy Byers, whom he first met while they were both at Rollins College. And I was best man at the wedding!" Myron hopes to be able to come to Providence for Alumni Day, Oct. 17, in his more or less official capacity as President of the Brown Club of Western Maine.

W. W. Reynolds has two sons, Bill '37 and Charles (Bud) '39, in the armed forces. So has C. D. McEvoy—Frank '39 and John '41. Why not a Class list of all sons of '07 in uniform? Put the facts on a postcard and mail it to A. H. Gurney, 14 Young Orchard Ave., Providence.

E. A. Batchelor's son, E. A. Batchelor, Jr., former Detroit newspaperman like his father, is in Officer Candidate School, Fort Benning, Ga. Young Batchelor enlisted in the Field Artillery in March, 1941, and served at Fort Knox and Fort Leonard Wood before going to Benning. His father is with Chrysler Sales Division, Chrysler Corp., in Detroit, and his correct house address is 69 Moran Rd., Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich.

1908

Two of Hunter S. Marston's sons are in service. Edgar L. Marston 2nd, is Captain, USA, lately on duty in Washington; and 2nd Lt. Hunter S. Marston, Jr., is a student in the Battery Officer Course, Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla.

After a year and a half with Caribbean Architect Engineer on the Caribbean air bases, James Wilnot came back to the States in mid-summer. His present mail address is in care of his son-in-law, Lt. Col. H. H. Manchester, Jr., 710 Princess St., Alexandria, Va.

Walter H. Burnham and Mrs. Burnham of Elizabeth, N. J., announced in August the engagement of their daughter, Miss Phoebe Barber Burnham, to 2nd Lt. Ewart J. White, Jr., of Fort Bragg, N. C., and East Orange, N. J. Miss Burnham is a provisional member of the Junior League of Elizabeth. Lt. White is a graduate of Princeton '42.

George Wyman Carroll, Jr., reports his mail address is in care of Stillman, Maynard Co., 61 Broadway, New York. But Norwich, Conn., where he lives at 257 Broadway, continues to be his home town.

Dr. Albert C. (Tommy) Thomas, minister of the First Baptist Meeting House, Providence, and Trustee of the University, has the important duties of chairman of the program committee in connection with the 1943 Northern Baptist Convention. The meeting place will be Denver, and the time, next spring, unless war conditions shelve all such gatherings.

Prof. Leslie E. Swain has been reappointed to the necrology committee for the Eastern District, American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, a department of the N. E. A.

1909

Al Leach's son, George M. Leach '44, is president of the Junior Class honorary society, the Brown Key.

Charlie Hughes's two sons are in the armed forces. Stuart, former instructor in history on the Hill, is 2nd Lieutenant, USA, and Charlie III of the Brown Class of '37 is Midshipman, USNR.

R. K. (Bob) Bennett is back at his desk as principal of Oliver Hazard Perry Junior High School, Providence, after serving as elementary principal of the Providence Y.M.C.A. summer school.

H. Minot Pitman, Jr., son of Harold Minot Pitman and Mrs. Pitman of Stonington, Conn., and Bronxville, N. Y., and Miss Jane Bartlett Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Pauline deW. B. Thomas and Arthur A. Thomas of Providence, will be married next month (October). Their engagement was announced in late August.

Don Stone, Professor of Political Science at Dartmouth, is chairman of the military service committee of the American Defense Dartmouth Group—the college authority on opportunities and requirements in all branches of military service. Don wrote a fine article for Dartmouth Alumni Magazine about the Group's purposes.

Harold B. Tanner of the law firm of Tillinghast, Collins & Tanner and a Trustee of the University will be chairman of the Men's Division of Providence's United War Fund during the campaign between Nov. 12 and 25. Harold and his aids will cover "the business district at the level below 'big business'—the level at which, in fiction and in fact, the backbone of America is located."

1910

Andrew B. Comstock's son, Ensign Andrew H. Comstock, USNR, and Miss Mary Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Clark, were married at the Church of the Reconciliation, Webster, Mass., Aug. 15, 1942. Robert Comstock, brother of the bridegroom, was an usher.

Warren C. Johnson is with the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, with his headquarters at 17 Court St., and his house at 264 Bay State Rd., Boston.

Aviation Cadet John A. Horton, Air Force, USA, son of your Class Secretary and Mrs. Horton of Barrington, and Miss Marilyn Easton, daughter of Herbert Eddy Easton '11 and Mrs. Easton, were married at the White Church, Barrington, Sept. 5, 1942. Ensign Edward M. Horton '39, USCGR, was best man for his brother. Cadet Horton is at present stationed at Monroe, La.

Alfred J. O'Connor's new house address is 1893 East 87th St., University Centre Station, Cleveland, O., and George E. Caswell reports a change to 212 Beach Place, Tampa, Fla.

Ralph M. Palmer's father, Rev. William H. Palmer, died at his home in Parma, N. Y., July 12, 1942. Another son is Dr. Arthur Palmer '11. Rev. Mr. Palmer held Baptist pastorates in New York, Michigan, Rhode Island (Providence), Pennsylvania, and taught at Jackson College, Jackson, Miss., before his retirement years ago.

John P. Farnsworth's son, Pvt. Robert Farnsworth, has been at Camp Polk, La., training with the 147th Armored Signal Co., 7th Armored Division.

All members of the Class will regret to hear that Dr. Edward J. Shaeffer has retired after eight successful years as manager of the big Whiting Refinery of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. He's had to give up, owing to illness, and his resignation took place as of Sept. 1. Ed began with Standard as a chemist in 1915. He won his Ph.D. at the Johns Hopkins University, where he was a Carnegie research fellow. His advancement at Whiting included promotion to superintendent of the light oils department, assistant general superintendent, general superintendent, and finally manager of the Refinery in 1934.

1911

Your Class Secretary, Charles P. Sisson, received commission as Captain, Army Air Forces, early in September and left soon after for Miami Beach, Fla., for an indoctrination course. His duties, as the news story said, "will be combat intelligence."

Taking the place of Dr. Frank M. Chapman '13, honorary, as Curator of Ornithology, American Museum of Natural History, New York, are Dr. Robert Cushman Murphy and Dr. John T. Zimmer. "A great ornithologist, a great educator," the New York Herald Tribune said editorially, "Dr. Chapman has played a large part in helping the American people, young and old, come to appreciate American bird life. Fortunately, his two successors are also distinguished in these fields, and are well equipped to carry on the work of the department. . . . These younger men are fully acquainted with the museum's problems and needs. They form a link with the older generation and thus will be able to carry on the continuity of the museum's tradition of combining thorough scholarship with educational work." Our classmate, Bob Murphy, has been one of the museum's foremost scientists since 1921.

Alan A. Wood's new mail address is 4811 Drummond Ave., Chevy Chase, Md. Wood is sales engineer with Builders Iron Foundry, working out of the Washington office at 310 Chandler Bldg.

George C. Channing, First Reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist,

Boston, has been named as a trustee of the Christian Science Publishing Society, publishers of the Christian Science Monitor and other publications of the Christian Science Church.

Brenton G. Smith is in command of the Plant Protection Guard, Rheem Mig. Co., builders of Liberty ships in the new yard below Fields Point, Providence. Brent has the rank of captain. During the First World War he rose to be Major, Signal Corps, A.E.F., with 18 months in France to his credit.

1912

Sheldon C. Collins's son, Stephen C. Collins entered Brown last June. "Ten Collinses have preceded him to College Hill," the father noted, with modest pride. The family lines go back to Abel Chalkley Collins '76 and Clarkson Abel Collins '78.

Pfc. Blackmer Humphrey, son of Karl Humphrey and Mrs. Humphrey, was home on midsummer furlough from Goodfellow Field, Tex. The Humphreys are now at home at 6 Barbary Hill, Providence, after spending the summer at Sakonnet.

Allen B. Williams, sales manager of Aluminum Ore Co., with his headquarters at 3500 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, Ill., reports a change of mail address to 7065 Maryland Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Rev. Wilbur S. Denning's son, Wilbur S. Denning, Jr., has left Brown, where he was a member of the Class of 1944, to train as an aviator at the Navy's Pre-Flight School at the University of North Carolina.

Wiley H. Marble and Dr. H. C. Bumpus, Jr., got together for a talkfest one day during the summer in Duxbury, Mass., and Wiley said, "We sure went over Brown and Brown men. Carey had just had a letter from George Kendall (Lt. Col., USA, in Australia) who was a track pupil of mine at Columbia, after graduation. I coached George into accomplishing that track (400 metres) under one minute."

1913

Jeffrey S. Granger is chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Brown University Club in New York.

Mrs. Charlotte A. (Russell) Lemon, wife of Alfred B. Lemon and mother of two sons and a daughter, died at Homeopathic Hospital, Providence, Aug. 9, 1942. Mrs. Lemon was on the Board of Directors of the Hospital and of the Home for Aged Women and was a member of the Plantations Club. The Class's sympathy, belated but nevertheless sincere, is given to Al and his family.

1914

Lt. Col. Maurice A. Wolf, MP, USA, and Mrs. Wolf have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth Taft Wolf, to Lt. Lute Lee Owrey, USNR, of Brandywine Summit, Pa., now on active duty. Miss Wolf is a member of the Junior League of Providence. Her parents are in California, where her father is stationed at Ft. Ord.

M. Kenneth Forward is Assistant Professor of English at University of Nebraska, where he has been teaching since 1920.

Miss Helen Fay Wadhams, daughter of M. Allyn Wadhams and Mrs. Wadhams of Hartford, Conn., was married to Ensign Edward Lee Smith, USNR, May 15, 1942.

1915

Col. Parker G. Tenney, Inspector General's Department, USA, is reported to be with the 10th Air Force, A.P.O. 886, care of the Postmaster, New York.

William C. Crolius, Jr., is with Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York and is living at 246 Turrell Ave., South Orange, N. J.

Paul O. Curtis, general agent of New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., Boston, writes his correct house address, owing to a recent change by the Post Office Department, is now 55 Silver Hill Rd., Weston, Mass.

George F. Bliven's son, George F. Bliven, Jr., received his commission as Ensign, USNR, in July, came home for a short leave, and returned to go on active duty with the Atlantic fleet. He trained at Squantum, Mass., and Pensacola, Fla.

1917

John Russell Brown and Mrs. Brown have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Brown, to Lt. Arthur N. Getz, USA, in Winnetka, Ill., Aug. 10, 1942.

John F. Wendt is a civil engineer with the New Haven Railroad, with his office at Room 322, Union Station, New Haven, and his house at 172 Morse St., Hamden, Conn.

Lt. Richard Robert Hughes, USA, son of our classmate, Rowland R. Hughes, Comptroller of the National City Bank of New York, and Mrs. Hughes, was married July 19 to Miss H. Elizabeth Flandreau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Flandreau of New Rochelle, N. Y.

William B. Farnsworth, our energetic Class Agent for the Alumni Fund, reports these new addresses: Elliott L. Thurston, 4414 Q St., N. W., Washington, D. C., and John R. Williams, 537 Marston St., Detroit, Mich.

Maj. W. Wallace Wade, FA, USA, coach of the All-Army team, Western Division, watched his huskies get away to a losing start against the professional Washington Redskins in Los Angeles. But then the soldiers won two straight, and their coach began to look a little more cheerful. "Not a great eleven, but a good one," Wade told the sports writers. "They can't be great because they have their minds on something else other than football."

Life's most embarrassing moment for former Lieut. Gov. Raymond E. Jordan occurred a short time ago when a Boston newspaper published his picture with the story that he had lost his life "as an Ensign pilot in the Navy Air Corps." But it was another Raymond Jordan, native of Lakeland, Fla., whose name was on the Navy's casualty list. Adding to the confusion was the fact that the pilot's wife lives at Quonset, where Ensign Jordan was once stationed.

1918

James V. Bennett, Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, is on the editorial board of Crime News and Feature Service, a department of the Society for the Prevention of Crime which furnishes a printed clip sheet to newspapers as a reliable aid in educating the public concerning crime and crime prevention. The editors "are especially concerned that in this war the old story of increased juvenile delinquency in war time should not be repeated."

John S. Chafee's daughter, Miss Janet Hunter Chafee, is one of three Rhode Island young women in the first V-9 group to be sworn in as apprentice seamen in the Women's Naval Reserve, otherwise the WAVES. Miss Chafee graduated from Vassar College in June.

Thomas W. Hall, on leave of absence from the Providence public schools, has been commissioned Lieutenant, USNR. Tom also stepped down as Freshman baseball coach on the Hill when he entered service. He was Ensign, Naval Reserve, in the first World War.

1919

James Anthony Peirce is advertising manager of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., with his office at 197 Clarendon St., Boston, and his house at 233 Needham St., Needham, Mass.

John P. Verity is on special duty with the U. S. Navy at Charlestown Navy Yard. He lives at 96 Sherman St., Wollaston, Mass.

Maj. Russell M. Peters is executive officer of a depot group at the new Oklahoma City Army Air Depot in Oklahoma. The unit is designed to maintain and repair aircraft and to train air depot groups. Russ, veteran of the First World War and resident of Larchmont, N. Y., was president of Fluid Meters, Inc., New York, when he took his present commission.

Edwin M. Murphy with Moody's Investors Service, has his office at Room 620, 75 Federal St., and his house at 96 Bay State Rd., Boston.

John W. Haley, advertising manager of Narragansett Brewing Co., Cranston, is living at 280 Slater Ave., Providence.

Alan S. Browne is director and manager of the Manufacturing Department, The Macmillan Co., publishers, with his office at 60 Fifth Ave., and his house at 117 East 77th St., New York.

Maj. George W. Lewis was on duty in midsummer with the Army Air Force, Albuquerque, N. M.

Charles H. Huggins, Jr., is a member of the Scholarship Committee of the Brown University Club in New York.

1920

George O. Podd, partner of Horwath & Horwath, accountants and hotel consultants, has his office at 310 South Michigan Ave., Chicago, and his home at 345 South Park Rd., La Grange, Ill.

Maj. Marshall N. Fulton, Medical Corps, USA, is on duty at Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, where he is chief of the Cardio Vascular-renal Section and chief of the Electro Cardiograph Department.

Charles R. Phillips, sales representative of American Hardware Corp., New Britain, Conn., is living with his family at One Ricker Park, Portland, Me.

Russell W. Besser, division manager of Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co., Chicago, writes his preferred mail address is 425 South 6th Ave., La Grange, Ill. Russ and George Podd (see above) should keep La Grange brightly on the map.

Evaresto Orteig, genial host at Hotel Lafayette, 99th St. at University Place, New York, lives at 33 University Place. Your correspondent counts a visit to New York lost if he does not eat at least once at the Lafayette.

Donald S. Shaw, vice-president and general manager of Radio Station WMCA, 1657 Broadway, reports his present house address is 130 West 57th St., New York.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Willard S. King is with Berkshire Silica Co., Netcong, N. J., where his house is, also.

Kenneth Gugg is carrying on his own business as cotton broker at 302 North Oak St., Lincolnton, N. C.

M. Joseph Shea, engineer on the technical staff of Bell Telephone Laboratories, Inc., 463 West St., New York, tells us his preferred mail address is 130 Hudson Ave., Englewood, N. J.

George H. Rhodes is consultant in fabric finishing at Jeffersonville Quartermaster Depot, USA, Jeffersonville, Ind.

1921

Prof. John W. Harriman of the Faculty of Tuck School, Dartmouth College, is a Captain, Army Air Forces.

Lt. Col. Ashley Greene is at present attached to Headquarters, Army Air Forces, War Department, Washington.

Christie E. Cuddeback has been elected as president of Western Maryland Dairy, Inc., subsidiary of National Dairy Products. The New York Herald Tribune and Times of Sept. 4 carried Chris's picture, with the note that he had stepped from vice president of Sheffield Farms Co. to his new place. He's been with Sheffield Farms since graduation, first as assistant superintendent, then as personnel manager, general sales manager and vice-president.

Earl S. McColey is chemist with Celanese Corp. of America, Cumberland, Md., where he lives at 538 Green St.

William J. FitzGibbon and Wayne M. Faunce are members of the Scholarship Committee of the Brown University Club in New York.

1922

Looking ahead to the 25th Reunion in 1927, the Class is studying possible ways of raising funds for an anniversary gift to Brown, Class Secretary J. Wilbur Riker reports.

Capt. Joseph W. Scharf, Army Air Force, has lately been stationed at Mather Field, Sacramento, Calif.

Fred Brack, writing from Groveville, N. J., said he was "glad to see such a splendid start made on the War Service Records in the last issue of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY," and added this interesting news item: "If you have not otherwise heard, I can certify that my old college roommate, Rev. H. Lincoln Mackenzie, is in Australia as Chaplain (First Lt.) Mackenzie." The Chaplain's address is 6H 118, APO 1142, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Twenty years, man and boy, has C. Manton Eddy been with Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. He celebrated on Aug. 5, to be exact. He went to work with Connecticut General as clerk in the actuarial department, moved up to assistant actuary, executive head of the group department, and then to secretary of the group department, where he is today.

President Theodore A. Distler of Franklin and Marshall had to resign from the Army Reserve Corps to give his whole time "trying to keep the college running efficiently and having its facilities available for Government use." It's a man-sized job, and Ted is serving his country well in doing it.

1923

Nelson C. Hoxsie, Jr., formerly manager of New England T. & T. Co. in New Bedford, Mass., is First Lt., Signal Corps, USA, at present on duty at 808 Commonwealth Ave., Boston. His house address is 852 Belmont St., Watertown, Mass.

Donald P. Brown is Lt., USNR. Don says mail sent him at 10 Bond St., Gloucester, Mass., will be forwarded.

John J. Kinney, Jr., is a member of the 22nd Technical School Squadron Special, Lowry Field No. 1, Denver, Colo., where he is assigned to Barracks 507.

Kilgore Macfarlane, resigned as vice-president of First National Bank, Princeton, N. J., has become Executive Officer and a life trustee of the Schenectady Savings Bank, Schenectady, N. Y.

Win Munro is southeastern representative for Macmillan Co., publishers, we learned when his fellow townsman, Dr. Samuel R. Damon '16 came up from Montgomery, Ala., to visit the campus. Win travels widely in his work.

Dr. Justin Andrews, authority on malaria control associated with the Georgia State Health Department, was called in June to undertake malaria work on foreign soil for the armed forces. He holds the rank of Major. Justin taught at the Johns Hopkins University and was visiting Professor of Parasitology at the University of the Philippines before he went South.

Don Higley asked for information about a number of his college contemporaries last month when he wrote the Alumni Office. He gets his mail at 153 Montovese St., Branford, Conn., where he has been a partner of Higley Brothers, construction firm.

Gilbert H. Van Note, who has been practising law in Spring Lake, N. J., since 1924, is a candidate on the Monmouth County Democratic ticket for the New Jersey General Assembly. Gil is at present a member of the Spring Lake Board of Education. He is also a director of the First National Bank and Past Master of Spring Lake Lodge of Masons. He's married and has one son.

Kenneth P. Gleason, we hear, enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserves at Springfield, Mass., in May, and went to Paris Island, S. C., for training. His home is in Warren, N. H.

Jumper with Wings ◀ ◀

▶ ▶ A CHAPLAIN with the American paratroops was not required to accompany his men into combat, but the Rev. Raymond S. Hall '31 thought, "I will have to learn to jump with these men if I ever want to be of any use to them in combat." So he undertook the rigorous training and finally became entitled to wear a parachuter's wings, the first chaplain in the history of the Army to qualify. And the boys started coming to his services in droves, for they like a sky-pilot who really takes to the skies.

Ray Hall, former Brown swimming captain and New England sprint record-holder as an undergraduate, is coming North from his camp to speak at Brown's Alumni Day Oct. 17. Chosen to represent the University's 2000 alumni in service, he's almost as proud of that distinction as of his first jump. Here's his description of it in The Pastoral Staff, publication of the Diocese of Western Massachusetts:

"The names of men are called off to form a jumping squad. I was number 10 in a 12-man squad. Then we all put our main chutes on our backs. After that there is a lot of harness-adjusting to do. This harness must fit very tight in order to take up the opening shock of the chute. Then we stand in line in order to have half a dozen or more inspections of equipment. Next we hook up the reserve chute on our chests—some more inspections. Several squads have been ready before us, and we have to wait around 'sweating'—I mean. Finally our turn comes after about an hour's wait with 50 pounds or more of equipment on that nearly breaks our backs because it is strapped on so tightly.

"We file out to the plane and wait for it to get ready then up into the plane and into our seats. The motors begin to speed up—they roar—but my heart is making much more noise. (Never been up in a plane.) The plane starts up the runway and we are off.

"The command is given stand in the door—and the first man gets in the proper position. Then the command Go is given, and the men begin to fly out the door almost on top of each other. I move up the aisle, I'm at the door, and, whoops, I'm out in space in a leaning-over position. My body straightens up all of a sudden, and there I am all alone out in space. Nobody seems to be around. What a thrill to look down and see the field. Then all the hard work of manipulating the chute starts, and you are busy all the way down. All of a sudden the ground seems to be coming up very fast, and you make your preparations to land. Before I knew it there I was on the ground running around my chute to collapse it and roll it up."

Rev. Raymond S. Hall '31, "Paratroop Parson" who will speak on Alumni Day.

Photo courtesy The Pastoral Staff

E. A. Wagner is manager of the New England T. & T. Co., with his office on Maple St. and his house at 225 Beech St., Holyoke, Mass.

1924

Clarence C. Chaffee, on leave from Williams College, is First Lt., Army Air Forces, and is Assistant Special Services officer at Headquarters, Army Air Force Technical Training Command, Miami Beach, Fla. He's working in the athletic and recreational program and says he has plenty of talent to draw upon.

"I attended Officer Training at Ft. Meade, Md., in July," he wrote a few weeks ago. "I came to Miami Beach the first of August, and have come across Molly Meier, Captain, Air Forces, who played football at Brown when I did. Molly has been in training six weeks at school here and, I think, is to be assigned to California."

William A. Dyer, Jr., has been promoted to Lt. Commander, USNR. Bill moved up in July, his father, William Allan Dyer '86, reports.

Dr. George H. Hunt sets down his correct rating as Passed Assistant Surgeon, U. S. Public Health Service, "which is an independent commissioned corps having no organic connection with the Army or the Navy." George's grade corresponds to that of Captain in the Army. He is still at the U. S. Marine Hospital, San Francisco, on surgical service. "We have 480 beds, and we keep comfortably busy, or more, all the time," he tells us, and adds that "San Francisco has remained completely unhysterical in spite of predictions that we would be bombed during the summer. . . . Best wishes to all my old acquaintances."

Lt. Arthur L. Budlong is on duty with the Coast Guard Reserve, and asks that his mail be sent to 1308 Gallatin St., N.W., Washington, D. C.

Russell West is a civil engineer with the U. S. Government now attached to the Post Utilities Office, Fort H. G. Wright, N. Y.

Jack R. Jellison is manager of F. R. Jellison, with his office at 16-18 Mt. Desert St., Bar Harbor, and his house at Salisbury Cove, Me. Maybe Jack will tell us (if he sees this paragraph) precisely what his business is. Or should we know?

S. Everett Wilkins, Jr., of the Providence law firm of Hinckley, Allen, Tillinghast & Wheeler (all Brown) is the Republican candidate for the Rhode Island House from District One, Cranston.

1925

First Lt. Stuart M. Wright, Army Air Forces, is on duty at Post Headquarters, Kelly Field, Tex.

Edson C. Lockwood, missionary on furlough from Ceylon under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, is living at 161 Grove St., Auburndale, Mass. "Arrived in U. S. July 13," he said in a recent note. "Was I supposed to be missing?"

Edward D. Jenkins is with the War Production Board in the Social Security Bldg., Washington, D. C., but he still claims 34 Princeton Ave., Dover, N. J., as his home.

Malcolm Graham, so Russ Eason tells us, is with Plattsburg National Bank & Trust Co., Plattsburg, N. Y., where he lives at 22 Macomb St.

Hubert Elder publicly said in August that he was a candidate for the Republican

Smallest of Recruits

▶ SMALLEST recruit ever taken into the U. S. Coast Guard—well, it may or may not be a distinction, but Louis W. Cappelli, Jr., otherwise known as Billy, doesn't care. He is in the Coast Guard, and is training at Manhattan Beach Training Station, and that is all that matters. Billy, son of Lt. Gov. Louis W. Cappelli '16 of Rhode Island, is two inches shorter than regulation, and his weight is somewhat feathery. Admiral Waesche, commandant of the Coast Guard, gave the necessary waivers when Billy set forth his ambition to join the Guard, and Lt. Gov. Cappelli swore in his son at a public ceremony opening Coast Guard Week at Roger Williams Park, Providence, Aug. 23. ◀ nomination for Massachusetts State Representative from the 4th Hampshire District. Elder, native and resident of Amherst, has been manager of a lumber, building material and farm machinery business under the name of C. R. Elder & Son for the past 15 years. He's active in the Amherst Business Men's Association and in the Amherst Rotary Club, and is a director of the Massachusetts Lumber Dealers' Association.

Philip S. Mancini has been promoted to Public Service Engineer of Providence after having worked for five years as Deputy Engineer. He is also doing duty as Traffic Engineer and Smoke Engineer. Phil was with us on the Hill two years. Then he transferred to M. I. T., won his Sc.B. degree there in electrical engineering. He began work for the City of Providence in 1931, as an assistant engineer. He's married, has two sons, and lives at 40 Admiral St.

Stanley Duane Sawyer, who died suddenly near Shandaken, Ulster County, N. Y., while on a fishing trip the week-end of May 16-17, 1942, came to Brown as a member of the Class in February, 1922, and left in June of that year. He was pledged to Delta Upsilon. Since leaving college he had been assistant to the president of B. W. King Transportation Co., assistant traffic manager and purchasing agent, Bulkeley, Duntun & Co., sales representative for E. H. Jube, all New York City, and in recent years a mining developer active in Canada, Labrador, Newfoundland. He was president of one mining group and vice-president and director of another, and was preparing for a trip to Labrador when he died. He was a member of Covenant Lodge of Masons, Brooklyn, N. Y., where he was born Nov. 6, 1901, the son of Albert E. and Sophie A. (Springer) Sawyer. An aunt, Miss Emily T. Springer, is his only immediate survivor.

1926

First Lt. Myron Sulzberger, Jr., Marine Corps, reported for duty in mid-August at the Marine Barracks, Quantico, Va.

Horace Mazet is now Major, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, and is Commanding Officer of the USMCR aviation unit at the USNR Base, Los Alamitos, Calif. "In other words," he wrote a month ago, "not so active now in actual flight instruction, but concerned with administration.

. . . No telling how long this billet will last."

Hermon M. Noyes has begun another year of teaching at North Quincy High School, Quincy, Mass. He lives at 33 Roosevelt Rd., Weymouth, Mass.

Dr. Chester M. Tirrell's new address in Newark, N. J., is 71 Lincoln Park.

1927

Lt. Col. Frederick B. Wiener, JAGD, USA, sends as his new address: Sector Headquarters, APO 868, care of Postmaster, New York. Fritz has been in Trinidad.

Russell C. Wonderlic is the new Baltimore manager of Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, with his office at 1218 Baltimore Trust Bldg., and his home at 853 West University Parkway. Russ went to Baltimore from Buffalo, where he was a leader in the Brown Club of Western New York.

Ralph S. Kantrowitz is Private, Co. I, 1229 Replacement, Ft. Dix, N. J. (At least he was at Fort Dix when we had a card from his brother early in August). He had been practising law in Bridgeport, Conn., where his mail address is 891 Hancock Ave.

Dr. Sedgwick S. Adams has opened an office for the practice of dentistry at 1015 Union Trust Bldg., Providence.

A. S. Friedman, radio research engineer, reports a change of address from Providence to 19 Rose St., Franklin Square, L. I., N. Y., but does not tell what he is doing in his new location.

Adam W. Smith has resigned as director of physical education of the Y.M.C.A., Chester, Pa., to take a similar position at the Y.M.C.A., Meadville, Pa. Wonder if Adam can cut still through the water with anything like his old speed?

1928

Dr. Joseph L. Kostecki left his private practice and closed his office at 626 Leonard St., Brooklyn, N. Y., at the end of August to enter the Army as First Lieutenant, Medical Corps.

Lt. (j.g.) Alfred S. Cleaves, USNR, wrote in August that his business address until Sept. 26 would be 820 Tower Court, Chicago. Al's preferred mail address is 171 Congdon St., Providence.

Stephen I. Hall is sales representative of Gulf Oil Corp., with his headquarters at 2417 Chatterton Ave., and his house at 1430 Parchester Rd., Bronx, N. Y.

A note about Donald B. Hart says that Don is "Lieutenant in USNR on active duty outside country." His preferred address is 5 Ives Rd., Hewlett, L. I., N. Y.

Alfred T. Scott is still strictly on the job with Kieckhefer Container Corp., Melrose, Mass., and is living at 24 Bonad Rd., Winchester, Mass.

Dr. Harold F. Laroe is a practising physician with his office and house at 7502 Ridge Blvd., Brooklyn, N. Y.

According to the July 11 issue of Rheemways, publication of Rheem Mfg. Co., Providence shipbuilders, "Ed Lawrence, halfback of the famous Brown University 'Iron Men' football eleven of 1926, is carrying the ball in Expediting."

John G. Getz, a correspondent notes, is supervising war work somewhere in Texas.

Dr. James Douglas Reid's new mail address is RFD 13, University Heights, Richmond, Va.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

1929

Howard Cook, according to a letter from his mother, Mrs. Drusilla M. Cook of Kissimmee, Fla., is a prisoner of war in Shanghai.

Edward L. Herrick received commission as Lieutenant, USNR, in July, and reported for duty immediately thereafter. Ed is on leave, we presume, from Lawrenceville School, where he has been an instructor. His house address is 15 High St., Milford, Conn.

Roswell B. Burchard, Jr., is Major, U. S. Marine Corps. He has the sympathy of the Class in the loss of his mother, who died in Boston in late August. The Burchard family home is at Little Compton, R. I.

Winthrop D. Bucklin, writing from Ancon, Canal Zone, in mid-August, said cryptically: "Am flying north the first of September, with the hope of contributing more to the war effort than I have been able to do since coming to Panama from Columbia in January." As we typed this paragraph we had not yet heard of his arrival at his home, Reynolds Hill, Mystic, Conn.

John Paul Dickson is Captain, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, and reports his address is in care of C. L. Dickson, 282 Ocean Ave., Lawrence, C. I., N. Y. Dickson, some of us will recall, left Brown to go to Yale, where he won his degree at the same time we were getting ours.

Pemberton L. Killeen, resigned as lecturer in geology at Brown, is with a U. S. Geological Survey party hunting for strategic minerals in Alaska.

Pvt. David Aldrich, USA, is stationed at Westover Field, Mass.

New addresses to note: Robert D. Allison, 140 Garfield Rd., West Hartford, Conn.; Francis E. Nair, 4339 Cleveland St., Skokie, Ill.; D. D. Davison from LaGrange, Ill., to 275 Bay Ave., Glen Ridge, N. J.; and Walter C. Fisher from Merrick, N. Y., the Post Office reports, to Ocean Ave., Carmel, Calif.

1930

Boston newspapers have carried the news that Rev. Carl B. Bihldorff will succeed Rev. Abbot Peterson at the First Parish Church in Brookline, Mass. Carl, after serving in Duxbury from 1936 to 1938, went to Louisville, Ky., to be minister of the First Unitarian Church there. Now it's good to see him back in New England. He graduated from Rhode Island State College, but entered Brown with us.

Ted Montigel reports his present address as 320 Fairmount Ave., Chatham, N. J. He is staff accountant with New York Telephone Co. In 1941 Ted and Mrs. Montigel moved from East Orange to their newly built home in Chatham. Their son was born last May. "Not in the Army, yet," Ted concluded.

Gene Campbell is busy working for Eastern Airlines; and Gerry Hogan, "the little rascal," is trying to drum up business for the Dairymen's League. Can you imagine anyone not succumbing?

Don Allmon was entered in the Tedesco tennis tournament in July, and carried through to the doubles finals.

Marshall (Mike) Snyder's wife said in a letter sent to the campus in July: "For the last two years Marshall has had a Reserve Officers' commission (Captain) with the Base Hospital Unit formed at the University of Michigan. They were called to

Reynolds at Dieppe

▶ WHEN Quentin J. Reynolds '24 was on the campus at Commencement, he said his ambition was to go on a raid with the Commandos. On Aug. 19 he had that wish.

When the Allies raided Dieppe, Quent was aboard. His vivid story, circulated by the United Press, said: "Maj. Gen. James Roberts of the Canadian Army was in charge of the military force, and he insisted that the destroyer on which he sailed go first. I was on that destroyer."

Quent did not get to land: "Our destroyer is close enough to see the white beaches now. When the heavy guns, mortars and machine guns opened up, we knew the boys were catching it." Nevertheless, the Collier's staff man was where he could get the comprehensive picture better than anyone else: "Roberts sat in his small room on the destroyer with three aides wearing earphones. Roberts was in active touch by radio with his men ashore and with the fighter command in England."

It was one of the war's most widely read news stories. It was a good one. It would be. ◀ active duty June 27— that is, 38 out of 41 doctors and 30 out of 120 nurses. They had to report to Camp Joseph Robinson, 6 miles from Little Rock, Ark., for training. They are the 298th General Hospital, of which the 214th Medical Regiment, in training here for a year, becomes a part."

Fred Crescitelli is Acting Assistant Professor of Physiology at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., where he lives at 729 Princeton Ave.

It's Capt. John A. Purinton, Jr., Office of Service of Supply, Munitions Bldg., Washington, D. C., so George Dickey '34 assures us.

Lt. (j.g.) Warren P. Leonard, USNR, was studying at Harvard Naval Training School when he wrote at the end of July asking us to correct his mail address to Mt. Tremper, R. D., Ulster County, N. Y. He was teaching at Putney School, Putney, Vt., when he went into service.

Jim Fishback is sales manager of Radio Station WOL (American Broadcasting Co.), with his headquarters at 1627 K St., N. W., Washington, and his house at 26 Grafton St., Chevy Chase, Md. At least Jim was on the job when he sent a card in June.

Cpl. Philip S. Knauer, Jr., 14th Training Battalion, Medical Replacement Training Centre, Camp Pickett, Va., is teaching recruits the duties of a Medical Department soldier. Phil finds it all a little different from practising law, but likes it just the same.

J. Gordon Baxter's new address is 251 River St., Troy, N. Y., and Howard M. Hall (Howie is a salesman) lives at 151 Hope Ave., Worcester, Mass.

HAL CARVER

1931

David M. Edes has been commissioned as Captain, USA, and is stationed at Camp Edwards, Mass.

Lt. Francis D. (Finkie) Gurll, USNR, is serving at Quonset Naval Base as an instructor in the Indoctrination School.

Pvt. Frank Merchant would like to have somebody lend him a pair of field glasses, as the Army cannot get them made fast enough. You can mail the glasses to Frank, ASN 1106, 3257 Hdqtrs Co., 157th Infantry, APO 45, in care of the Postmaster, New York.

Joseph M. Davis is president of Pawtucket Rotary Club for 1942-43. Joe is also chairman of Pawtucket Board of Canteen-ers.

Lt. (j.g.) Richard J. Walsh, USNR, is said to be on sub-chaser duty in southern waters. Dick gets his mail, we are told, through the Postmaster, New York.

Ernie Hawkinson, the diver of renown (we quote from a letter from Jim White '32) is assistant flight manager for Pan American Airways near Coral Gables, Fla. He is married to a beautiful Cuban girl, Jim adds, "and has the finest son, Lans Jon, that we've seen in Florida."

Parson paratrooper Ray Hall was a guest on the radio program, "We, the People," one Sunday night in July.

Edward M. Read reports a change of scene from St. Paul Academy, St. Paul, Minn., to the John Burroughs School, Price Rd., St. Louis County, Mo.

Sgt. John M. Moler is doing personnel work at Ft. Tilden, N. Y., where his chief, Maj. C. W. Way '07, Medical Corps, USA, is in command of the Station Hospital.

Erling B. Owren is with Aridye Corp., 300 Plaza Rd., Fairlawn, N. J., and is living at 55 Central Park West, New York.

Author and Naval officer— that's William G. Schofield in a phrase. His book, "Ashes in the Wilderness," came out early in September with the imprint of Macrae-Smith Co. A story of King Philip's War in the 1670's, "it is a book every Rhode Islander can well afford to read," said H. E. Slayton in the Providence Sunday Journal. "Non-Rhode Islanders also will find it both informative and interesting." Bill is Lieutenant (j.g.) USNR, assigned to Volunteer Reserve for deck duties. The Boston Herald printed a picture in late August in which Bill loomed as large as life helping swear in the first WAVES at Smith College.

Albert E. Sidwell, Jr., is director of the laboratory of American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago. Al lives at 123 Coolidge Ave., Barrington, Ill.

Banker's Solution

▶ "THE real solution, and the only logical one, would be to finance deficit spending outside the banking system. For the advocates of large scale, long continued public spending this seems likely to become a major challenge." So concluded Dr. John H. Williams '12, Vice-President of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in his address on "The Implications of Fiscal Policy for Monetary Policy and the Banking System."

His thoughts on the subject, originally expressed before a joint meeting of the American Economic Association and the American Statistical Association, are now brought out in pamphlet form. ◀

Ernest H. Lawler, Jr., is with the Reconstruction Co., 33rd Armored Regiment. Before he entered the Army, he was day agent with the Pullman Co., 845 South Wabash Ave., Chicago.

Bill Rupprecht is Cpl. Rupprecht, Co. A, 78th Engineers, APO 846, care of the Postmaster, New York, his father wrote us in August.

Dick Reynolds, reporter with the Providence Journal, was the only winner for his team when the Brown varsity tennis players beat the newspapermen 5-2 during the summer term.

"Blooms in X-Ray" was the title of an illustrated story in a recent issue of the Providence Sunday Journal telling how Dr. Eugene A. Field, "a photographer by avocation, is proving that the X-ray is capable of revealing and recording on sensitized paper the rarely seen delicate beauty of plants and flowers." Gene, the story said, "finds his work exciting and rewarding, and foresees the possibility of using X-ray flower prints as murals and decorative designs."

Cadet Bruce M. Docherty is a member of Co. F, Second Regiment, Quartermaster School, Camp Lee, Va.

Pvt. Paul A. M. Snyder is beginning from the ground up with the Signal Corps at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Ray A. Ely is New England T. & T. Co. manager in the New Bedford, Mass., office at 118 Clinton St.

John M. Sullivan reports he is with the U. S. Navy, Construction Battalion, and that his mail address is 495 Boylston St., Brookline, Mass.

Representative Edwin H. Nichols of the 15th Massachusetts District (Fitchburg) received his commission as Lieutenant, USNR, Aviation Division, in the summer and at once said he would not be candidate for re-election to the Massachusetts House. Ed, lawyer in Fitchburg since 1934, has long been interested in aviation and has completed many hours of solo flying.

Changes of address during the summer include Wesley M. Noble, 1700 Bay St., San Francisco, Calif.; Anthony J. Russo, 675 River Ave., Providence; James Minicis, 3001 Henry Hudson Parkway, New York; and John H. Ranges, Jr., 122 Laurence Place, New Rochelle, N. Y.

1932

Lt. James C. White, Air Forces, USA, is assistant range officer on duty at Miami Beach, Fla., where his address is 8200 Harding Ave. "Commissioned July 22, and after five weeks of intensive school was sent down here," Jim wrote, adding that he had already met up with Frank Willer '34 and Ernie Hawkinson '31.

First Lt. Eugene M. Holleb, Medical Corps, USA, "is now somewhere in Australia as a radiologist." His brother, Dr. Herbert B. Holleb '35, says that "Gene recently spoke to us here in Brooklyn by short wave broadcast. He is apparently having a grand adventure while he is playing his part."

Dr. Hilliard Dubrow closed his office at 169 East 78th St., New York, in mid-July to report for active duty at Spence Field, Moultrie, Ga. Maybe when he writes again, he will give us his rank and tell us just what he is doing.

Chief Petty Officer Albert C. Capaldi, USNR, is on duty at the Navy Advance Base Depot, Port Huene, Calif. Al worked for eight years in the Providence office of U. S. Army Engineers before joining the Navy.

Tommy Riggs and his Betty Lou are back on the air again, aided and abetted by Jimmy Cash, tenor; Bill Goodwin, announcer, and Felix Mill's orchestra. Tuesday night, 9-9:30, is the time.

Lt. Delbert S. Wicks, USNR, on leave from the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., with Mrs. Wicks and their young son, Frederick, were Providence visitors in mid-summer.

New addresses: Dr. Irving A. Beck, 43 Sessions St., Providence; Robert C. Lorentz, 120 North Oraton Parkway, East Orange, N. J.

1933

Rev. Gardner H. Shattuck is the new rector of Pomfret School, Pomfret, Conn., where W. E. S. Moulton '31 is also teaching and coaching. "A good man in a fine post," a well known Brunonian says of Shattuck, who entered the Episcopal ministry in 1936, was assistant at Trinity Church, Boston, and Vicar of Grace Church, Dalton, Mass., before going to Pomfret.

Capt. John E. Flemming, promoted and transferred from Ft. Dix, N. J., to Headquarters, VI Army Corps, Providence, is serving as Assistant Adjutant General at his new post.

Pvt. Albert J. McCaffrey is attached to a Technical School Squadron, at the Replacement Training Center, Miami Beach, Fla. Al, married last January to Miss Harriet E. Perkins, was on the sales staff of Filing Equipment Bureau, Providence, when he was called.

James W. Eastham reports he is working on chemical problems in the manufacture of vacuum tubes, General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y., where his mail address is 2342 Campbell Ave.

Alfred T. Hill, associate instructor of English at Culver Military Academy, is editor-author of "Campus and Classroom," a collection of stories which Harner & Brothers have recently published. Al has been at Culver for the past six years. He has written numerous articles and stories, but this is his first book.

Norman J. Blair reports his assignment to the Civilian Public Service Camp at Ashburnham, Mass., as a conscientious objector.

Eliot F. Beach is research biochemist with the Children's Fund of Michigan, with his workshop at 660 Frederick St., and his house at 16931 Griggs Ave., Detroit.

Neal W. Hughes, whose marriage is reported elsewhere in this issue, is an underwriter in the group division of Aetna Life Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn.

Daniel W. Moger, Jr., is one of White Plains' Air Raid Wardens in charge of Burling Avenue, where he lives. Dan is treasurer of Westchester Realty Management and assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of the Bank of Westchester and Hudson-Harlem Valley Servicing Corp. He's married and has one son.

New addresses for your notebooks: John F. Sheasby, 909 Sheridan Rd., Glencoe, Ill.; Austin J. Jennings, Westport, Conn.; William A. Gray, 5560 Cates Ave., St. Louis, Mo.; Walter L. Meima, 1128 North 29th St., Billings, Mont.

1934

Lt. Conrad C. Clement, Medical Corps, USN, is a Flight Surgeon on sea duty. His Navy address is in care of the Postmaster, New York, but you can reach him through his home, 32 South Bay Ave., Amityville, L. I., N. Y.

Francis S. Wilson is First Lieutenant, Transportation Corps, USA, at present assigned to the War Department, Pentagon Bldg., Arlington, Va., where his house address is 2408 Military Rd.

Second Lt. Louis C. Irving, CWS, called to active duty in March, was assigned to the Boston Chemical Warfare Procurement District and later selected from a group of volunteers for an overseas job. We have heard that he left the country during the summer. Louis has four brothers in service. The youngest is Fred of the Brown Class of '43.

Frank Willer is assistant cashier of the Florida National Bank & Trust Co., Miami, and is also running a new bank opened in BALLOT BOX: The photographer for Phi Beta Kappa's Key Reporter caught Brunonian Arthur Long and Prof. William T. Hastings at the chapter's election time.

August in Belle Glade, Fla. Frank and Mrs. Willer, who was Gladys Waterhouse '36, Pembroke College, are proud of their two growing boys. Lt. Jim White '32 tells us.

Lt. (j.g.) George C. Hogg, USNR, has been on duty at the Navy Recruiting Office, Providence.

Richard W. Kingerley, Jr., is research chemist with E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., 3092 Broadway, Cleveland, O. Dick's house address is 1211 Webb Rd., Lakewood, O.

"I'm located here at the Link Trainer Instructor School," Maurice Rothlein wrote from Chanute Field, Ill., in mid-August. "Attending classes with me are Andy Roug-vie '33, Gordon McEvoy '42, and Bill Springer '44. We came up together from Miami Beach Replacement Training Center. Seven hours of classes daily except Sunday, and the work is really being poured on."

J. Winthrop Quigley is head of the Statistical Department, Freeport Sulphur Co., with his office at 122 East 42nd St., New York, and his house at 79-01 35th Ave., Jackson Heights.

Frank G. Stiles, Jr., is marketing assistant with Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Inc., at 48 Main St., South Portland, Me. Frank is living at 545 Front St., Portland.

First Lt. David N. Viger is attached to the Medical Supply Depot, Denver, Colo., a long way from his beloved Detroit.

"Here are names of three '34 men in the armed forces which you omitted from the list in the summer issue of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY—Lt. Alan K. DeWitt, Lt. David C. Moore, Lt. Wilbur F. Smith, all of the U. S. Army," says a memorandum which the sender, to whom we are grateful, forgot to sign.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Lt. (j.g.) E. Davis Caldwell, USNR, reported from Washington in midsummer that he was "going to Chicago for two months training at Northwestern University. Next destination anybody's guess." Dave's Washington address is 2200 19th St., N.W.

Paul B. Chaney and Mrs. Chaney have moved to 340 West 57th St., Apt. 9-A, New York; and Edward H. Kreiselmann is now living at 200 North Portage Path, Akron, O.

1935

Edward W. Wise, Jr., commissioned Lt. (j.g.), USNR, was ordered to report in August to Boston Navy Yard. Ed has been practising law with his father in Red Bank, N. J.

Ensign Vernon S. Chapman, Jr., USNR, of Rockmart, Ga., and formerly on the sales staff of Eastman Kodak Co., has been named Assistant Ship's Service Officer at the U. S. Naval Training School for electricians at State Teachers' College, Morehead, Ky. The new school, recently opened on the college campus, has accommodations for 600 students who will be selected by a series of aptitude tests given during their recruit training period.

Robert Jerrett, Jr., commissioned Lt. (j.g.) in the A-V(S) category of the Naval Reserve, has been taking training at Quonset Naval Base. Previously, while still a civilian, Bob had been observer in the Air Raid Warning Service.

Dick Meryweather, we hear, is a member of the 45th School Squadron, Hendricks Field, Sebring, Fla.

Dr. John C. Allen is a practising physician in North Haven, Conn.

Pvt. Jay Bauman is attached to 37th Air Base Squadron, Army Air Base, New Orleans, La. Mrs. Bauman, a correspondent writes, has taken a house at 1313 8th St., New Orleans.

Amos Landman, newspaper work temporarily behind him, sets himself on record as of Aug. 29: "Amos Landman, Pvt., Army, Camp Upton, N. Y."

Sgt. Norman B. Dodge left Ft. Devens, Mass., in late August to report for special training at the Adjutant General's Officer Candidate School, Ft. Washington, Md. Norman was the Providence Journal's reporter at Devens, and he did a grand job with his weekly column. His last column was a fine summary of the story of Devens and the new army as he watched it develop from January, 1941. He was too modest to tell of his new assignment, but his editor did in a neat foreword to the last column (Aug. 23).

Lt. Harry Goldberg has been on duty at the Station Dispensary, Albrook Field, Panama Canal Zone.

Howard C. Olsen is teaching Latin, history, public speaking this academic year at St. Andrew's School, Barrington.

Irving Canner, writing early in the summer from 153 Milk St., Boston, where he is with Atlantic Management Trust, said he was "still engaged in the not altogether happy pastime of keeping tenants happy as manager of properties—both residential and business—owned by a Boston bank and by our office." He had been unable to qualify for a commission in the armed forces, he added, because of eyesight, but was anticipating another opportunity "to get into it."

Robert T. Fowler, Jr., reported in midsummer he was in real estate, "Ask Mr.

Fowler," at 700 Centre St., Jamaica Plain, and that he was living at 25 March Ave., West Roxbury, Mass.

John Mason Gross and Mrs. Gross have changed their address from Boston to North Prairie St., Galesburg, Ill. Other changes for your book: Donald V. Reed, 6 Devereaux Place, Garden City, N. Y.; G. Armand Morin, Lake Mattawa, Orange, Mass.; Benjamin A. Watts, Jr., 87 Alfred Drowne Rd., Barrington, R. I. Ben, we have heard, is with the Providence office of OPA.

Lt. Russell M. Brown, USN, is attached to the Office of the Judge Advocate General, with his present home address R-293, New River Marine Base, N. C.

1936

Lloyd Giles reported in August his address was: Pvt. Lloyd B. Giles, Ft. Devens, Mass. Lloyd's home address is 32 Oak Ave., Belmont, Mass.

Lt. (j.g.) John J. O'Reilly, USNR (he still answers to the name of Mickey) has been in training at the Naval Reserve School of Indoctrination, Tower Hall, Northwestern University. So has Lt. (j.g.) Luther Stanhope.

Ensign Frederick M. May, USNR, according to a note from Hal Carver '30, may be reached at 6609 First St., N.W., Washington, D. C. Maybe Fred will give us a line on his work if and when he reads this item.

Al Owens is shop superintendent of Lindbloom Corp., 71 Peck St., Providence, and is living with his family at 53 Overbrook Ave., Commicut.

Sumner P. Ahlbum, picture editor of the Providence Bulletin, told about his adventures with pictures since the war began in a lively and readable article in the Gravure Section of the Providence Sunday Journal of Aug. 30.

Gottlieb O. Fiedler, Jr., who received his A.M. at Brown in 1939, now has the degree of Ed.M. to add to his name. He won the last one in June at Harvard.

In There Pitching

► REVERSING his stride from pitcher to parson, Rev. Bertram Elijah Humphries '34 earned his glove, his fast ball and his curve to the mound for Albany of the Eastern League on the night of Sept. 2, held the opposing Springfield team to three hits and shut it out, 8-0. The tall, serious and sensitive right hander who was Brown's best pitcher in '32, '33 and '34 was on vacation as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Baldwinsville, N. Y., when the Albany manager persuaded him to get back into uniform and help the Senators try to clinch the Eastern League pennant.

Six years is a long layoff, but the Rev. Bertram Elijah Humphries always keeps in condition, practising what he preaches. What the trustees of his church said on his return to Baldwinsville the following Sunday is still a secret. It is possible that one or more of them may have been in the stands that cool September evening gleefully watching their parson-pitcher make monkeys of Springfield's hitters.

William H. Benton, Jr., is superintendent of Anaconda Wire & Cable Co.'s plant at Pawtucket.

Bob Weill was back on the campus in July to renew acquaintances. He's with Commercial Investment Trust Corp., and his mail address is 2184 Lenox Rd., N.E., Atlanta, Ga.

Lt. (j.g.) David C. Scott, Jr., USNR, at Ft. Schuyler, N. Y., for indoctrination, is now back in Washington with the Bureau of Ships.

Prescott W. N. Gustafson is Boatswain's Mate, second class, U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, attached to the Block Island station. New house address for Pres is 50 Drowne Parkway, Rumford, R. I.

Second Lt. John J. Kelly, Jr., U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, enlisted in February and won his commission in August. John was in the trucking business in Providence before joining the Marines.

Theodore Tannenwald, Jr.'s new address is 708 North Wayne St., Lee Gardens Apt., Arlington, Va., and Richard C. Fallon has recently moved to 35 Channing Rd., Watertown, Mass.

First Lt. R. Perry Elrod, Medical Corps, Sanitation Division, USA, is on leave of absence from Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research at Princeton, N. J., and is on duty at the Station Hospital, Indiantown Gap, Pa. Perry took special training at Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, before beginning his present task.

1937

Capt. Thomas J. Watson, Jr., Army Air Forces, flew with Maj. Gen. Follett Bradley to Moscow early in August, and got himself into the news stories by having a leg "pinned by landing gear mechanism when the gear was suddenly lowered for a landing." Tom was working in the belly of the plane at the time, with Moscow airfield directly below.

Second Lt. J. DeReu Crocker, USA, is with the Tank Destroyer Command in Texas. Crocker studied law at Cornell Law School and George Washington University before going to Camp Lee, Va., as a private. He moved on to Camp Croft and then went to training school at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Ensign William E. Ryan, USNR, received his Navy wings in July at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., after preliminary training at Squantum, Mass.

Harvey R. Nances is Seaman, first class, USNR, at present stationed at the District Intelligence Office, New York. "We can all take pride in Brown's services to the war effort," he said in a recent letter.

Ensign Martin L. Tarpy, USNR, is a student at the Naval Reserve School of Indoctrination, Northwestern University, Chicago.

Lt. Jay D. Mann, Medical Corps, USA, was in San Francisco when his marriage (see another column in this issue) was announced a few weeks ago. Jay won his M.D. at Albany Medical School in 1941.

Pvt. William D. Reynolds is at the Replacement Training Center, Miami Beach, Fla. Bill went there from Ft. Devens, Mass.

Dr. Freeman D. Love is interne at U. S. Marine Hospital, Norfolk, Va.

Technical Sgt. Laurence H. Tingley is now in the Medical Detachment, Army Air Forces, on duty with the dental clinic at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala. He trained at Camp Lee, Va.

Horace L. Henry, Jr., is senior supervisor, Organic Area, E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co., Oklahoma Ordnance Works, Pryor, Okla., and lives at 2257 South Delaware Court, Tulsa.

Francis T. Eddy is chemical engineer with General Chemical Co., Marcus Hook, Pa. His mail address is 164 West Baltimore Ave., Lansdowne, Pa.

Albert W. Anderson, according to a card received in mid-summer, is Airport Manager, Pan American Airways, Inc., at Lisbon, Portugal.

Lt. Stanley Grzebien, Medical Corps, USA, has left Carlisle, Pa., we hear, and is somewhere on the West Coast.

Lt. (j.g.) Powell H. Ensign, USNR, has recently been stationed in Central America.

Leon Blumenthal is assistant manager, Waste & Salvage Division, Cohn-Hall-Marx Co., with his office at 601 West 26th St., New York, and his house at 2813 Ocean Ave., Brooklyn.

Raymond O. Olson received the M.D. degree from Harvard Medical School in June.

Second Lt. Charles H. Anderson, FA, is on duty at Camp Maxey, Paris, Tex., where he and Mrs. Anderson (they were married Aug. 9, 1942) are at home at 155 North 27th St. Anderson is a member of the Rhode Island bar.

Herbert A. Harrington is an engineer with Good Roads Machinery Co., 50 Church St., New York.

H. Norman (Red) Neubert, Divisional Advertising Manager, R. H. Macy & Co., New York, reports his present house address is One Montgomery Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Gerald Smithson has moved from Ballston Spa to 250 Vley Rd., Scotia, N. Y.

1938

Sgt. Dud Onderdonk, changing his branch of service in the U. S. Army, has been at the Officer Candidate School, Chemical Warfare Service, since Aug. 10.

Your regular correspondent—none other than Lt. (j.g.) James W. Gurll, USNR—is at the Naval Reserve School of Indocination at Northwestern University, where his address is 712 Tower Hall. "Sorry I didn't get back to U. H. a few weeks ago," he said in his last letter. "Things happen so quickly in the Navy I just can't seem to budget my time." Jim expected to be at Northwestern until the end of September.

In Tower Hall with him when he wrote was Pvt. Thomas R. Huckins, USA, undergoing officer training in Army Intelligence.

H. M. (Ray) LaFauci is reported to be in Australia, his address being 18th Station Hospital, APO 922, in care of the Postmaster, San Francisco.

Scheduled to get the silver eagle wings of a flying officer and commission as 2nd Lieutenant, Army Air Forces, this month is Cadet James Newton Byers III, whose father served in the Navy in the first World War and whose mother was an ambulance driver. Jim, too tall when he first applied for service, got in when the height requirements were changed and has been training at Columbus Army Flying School in Mississippi. Between the time of his first rejection and his later acceptance, he took primary and secondary flying courses at Oil City, Pa., and ground school work at Pittsburgh.

"The list of Brown men in military service which appears in the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY is very interesting," writes Malcolm C. Spalding. "I'll volunteer to bring my own record to date: Address, Cannon Co., 179th Infantry; rank, 2nd Lieutenant;

A Magician for the Army

▶▶ Now H. Adrian Smith '30, magician extraordinary, is in the Army, and a reporter on the Providence Bulletin wrote in a recent news story that if Smith has the chance he may be just the man to "haul Hitler out of top hat, plank him down and saw him in half for keeps."

"Private Smith is a true artist of legerdemain, past president of the Society of American magicians," the reporter went on, "and has the largest collection of books on magic in the world at his Riverside home. Currently he is working out ways of making spots disappear without soap from the mess tables at Ft. Warren, Wyo., where the draft finally landed him."

"Yes, KP has got H. Adrian as an ordinary soldier, but he hasn't given up his magic. He's in great demand as an entertainer out there where they are training quartermaster troops. He took a jeep out to one section of the Fort the other night for a performance, and camps being what they are, he got lost and turned up at the wrong theatre. He put his show on anyway, was loudly applauded, then found his way back to the original spot where he was to perform and put on his show a second time."

"Smith was skillful enough in his college days to help earn his way through Brown. He was following a salesman's career with an Attleboro manufacturing firm when the Army waved its draft wand at him, and made him disappear for a while."

"But not for long. He has the Fort in a tizzy trying to figure out his tricks and feats of memory. He told a public relations officer that the answer to it all is simple. 'It's just getting people to look at the wrong place at the right time.'"

"General Marshall, please note."

◀◀

whereabouts, vague at present, but you can send mail to APO 45, care of Postmaster, New York."

Donald W. MacMillan has been promoted to Lt. (j.g.), USNR. As chief Naval officer on merchant ships, Don has travelled more than 30,000 miles since last January.

Lt. (j.g.) James S. Couzens is serving aboard a destroyer in the Atlantic fleet, according to a story in the Yonkers Herald-Statesman in early summer. Jim was working for the Central National Bank, Yonkers, of which his father is president, when he enlisted in the Navy in October, 1940.

Rod Chisholm received his Ph.D. from Harvard last June in epistemology. His thesis: "Basic Propositions of Empirical Knowledge."

Stearns Putnam, who also did his graduate work at Harvard, likewise received his Ph.D. in June in organic chemistry. His Thesis: "Oxidation of Hydrocarbons with Lead Tetraacetate."

Joe Cooper and Alex Kantor won their M.B.A. degrees at Harvard in June, and Theodore Sack received his M.D. degree from Harvard Medical School.

Henry W. Anderson is working for the Government with headquarters at 1900 Bankers Bldg., Chicago.

Lt. Myles L. Grover, USA, is instructing in anti-aircraft fire control at the Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. "The optics and math I had at Brown come in very handy here," Myles wrote.

Jack Davison, who received his Ph.D. degree from University of Pennsylvania in June, is research chemist with U. S. Rubber Co., Passaic, N. J., where he lives at 246 Lafayette Ave.

Francis X. Hope, Jr., with an LL.B. from Temple University, passed by the law for the duration to accept appointment as Naval Aviation Cadet. He has been at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., for training.

Pvt. Frederick M. Gilbreth was at Chanute Field, Ill. (Barracks 234) when we heard from him in late July.

Roger Francis is reference assistant in the Reference Department, New York Public Library, and is living at 18 Charles St., Apt. 45, in New York.

Ensign Leo Loeb, Jr., USNR, received his commission in August after training in New York. Two days after graduation Leo married Miss Shirley Charlotte Keno in East Orange, N. J. Sorry we can't tell where he trained (as he asked us to do), as the censor says no.

Aviation Cadet Victor G. Petrone is reported to be at Maxwell Field, Ala., training for the Army Air Forces.

Bob Riegler, so Emery Walker '39 tells us in a welcome note, is at Officer Candidate School, Aberdeen, Md., and Charles Thompson—Dr. Charles H. Thompson—is a Naval physician.

Reevan J. Novogrod, resigned from the R. I. Department of Civil Service, is with OPA in Washington as Classification Analyst. "I investigate various classes of occupational positions and determine at what level and salary they should be placed," he says. He is living at 1318 Delafield Place, N. W., Washington.

Henry Acker is a Technical Sergeant in the Coast Artillery at Fort Church, R. I., the "only Brown man at the fort."

1939

Bob Sykes, Jr., meteorologist in charge of Army weather stations "in the far North," has been promoted to Captain. Bob took his Master's degree in meteorology at New York University before going into the Army in June, 1941.

Pvt. Tom Carey is on duty with an Air Base Group, Greenville, Miss. If the boys have a football team down there, we know who will be playing centre. Eh, Tom?

Second Lt. Frank McEvoy, D Co., 337th Infantry, 85th Division, told us in August he was working with a mortar platoon, and had qualified 35 first class gunners—some of them experts. "No greater privilege (and responsibility) than the training of soldiers," he said in a breezy letter, "and I like it."

Cort Briggs joined Prescott Paint Co. in August as chief chemist and can feel that he is contributing to the war effort in an unusual way. His company makes casein and resin emulsion paints used in camouflage work by the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. Cort and Art Gurney had a good evening together not long ago, Art being a fellow Jerseyite now. We've reported Art as chemical engineer in heavy chemical production with Westvaco Chlorine Products, Carteret. Cort's address is 55 Broad St., Matawan, N. J.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Carl Soresi is a radio producer with the Office of War Information in New York. He's living at 7901 35th Ave., Jackson Heights.

Ensign Holher G. Tomlin, USNR, came home on leave early in September after a tour of duty at a Naval air base "somewhere above the Arctic Circle." The Providence Journal said Holher was "second pilot aboard a Naval plane which spotted crew members of a wrecked Army plane a month ago, and aided in the subsequent rescue, which received wide press and radio publicity."

Bruce Macklin, graduated from the Advanced Flying School, Luke Field, Ariz., in late July, won his commission as 2nd Lieutenant, Air Corps Reserve.

Frank P. Comstock, 2nd, married in August, as you will probably read elsewhere in this issue, is Ensign, USNR, recently on duty in Boston.

Ken White, who enlisted in the Navy Air Corps in 1938, is now Lt. (j.g.) Kenneth B. White, and is on an aircraft carrier as a dive bomber pilot.

Sherry Kapstein will coach football and basketball at Lockwood High School, Warwick, this fall and winter. He will also serve as a member of the teaching staff.

Cpl. Leonard D. LeValley's latest address is Battery A, 200th F. A., APO 502, Task Force 684, in care of the Postmaster, San Francisco.

Ted Lemeshka says his present occupation is "Medical Section, U. S. Army," currently at Ft. Devens, Mass.

Dick Goodby is working for Smith-Holden Dental Supply, with his office at 1115 Main St., and his home at 1240 Fairfield Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

Rev. Robert L. Seekins, Jr., and Mrs. Seekins are living on Victor Ave., Johnston, R. I. Bob, deacon in charge of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, will soon be ordained to the priesthood. When he and Mrs. Seekins returned from their honeymoon in July, they were guests of the parishioners, who made them a gift.

Enrico Casimghino, writing from his home at 34 Spring St., Thompsonville, Conn., tells us his roommate F. Carter Childs is now Lt. Childs. Now at Ft. Belvoir, Va., Carter has been in the Army for the past year.

Stuart C. Sherman is a librarian on the staff of Enoch Pratt Free Library, Baltimore, Md., where his chief is Dr. Joseph L. Wheeler '06.

Jack Barry is a marine special agent for Aetna Life Insurance Co., with his office at 120 South La Salle St., Chicago, and his house at 820-B Judson, Evanston, Ill.

Ken Vale is research chemist with Bird & Son, Inc., working in the floor covering laboratory at Norwood, Mass., where he lives at 173 Roosevelt Ave.

Pvt. James C. Given, Jr., is in a Medical Training Battalion, at Camp Pickett, Va.

Dr. David T. Dresdale is interne at Presbyterian Hospital, 620 West 168th St., New York.

Gale Wishbach is an industrial specialist with Army Signal Corps at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. He and Mrs. Wishbach live at 208 Bendermere Ave., Interlaken, N. J.

William C. Bieluch has received commission in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve and will remain on inactive duty until February. Bill is a lawyer in the offices of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson & Shorb at 701 Union Trust Bldg., Washington, and will stay on his job there until he goes into service.

Don Crosby, so Emery Walker tells us, is in the Army Meteorological School "somewhere in Florida."

Alex Benn reported in midsummer he was with Aluminum Co. of America, Edgewater, N. J., and that he was living at 100 Parkway Rd., Bronxville, N. Y.

Aviation Cadet Frederick H. Greene, Jr., is reported to be at Turner Field, Albany, Ga., where he will remain until the end of September.

Laird Covey writes his new house address is 47 Cherry St., Milford, Conn.

1940

Lt. (j.g.) Arthur W. Doherty, USNR, is an instructor at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station down in Texas. Art has been at Corpus Christi since last October.

George Abraham is research engineer in the Radio Division, Naval Research Laboratory, Anacostia Station, Washington. George received his Master's degree from Harvard in "communication engineering" last June. This fits in with his designs on a radio career begun with the Brown Network and carried on into the Intercollegiate chain.

Bill Ducomb, Bob Newton, Jr., and Bill Hunt completed work at the School of Business Administration, Harvard, for their M.B.A. degrees in June.

Dave Howe was commissioned 2nd Lt., Engineers, at Ft. Belvoir, Va., in early August and assigned to a camouflage battalion for further training. Dave served 16 months in the ranks before winning his lieutenant's bar.

Second Lt. Robert T. Poole is a ground school instructor at the advanced glider school at Amarillo, Tex.

Sam Anderson has been commissioned 2nd Lt., Army Air Forces, after having completed his course as Aviation Cadet.

Joe Terranella is senior inspector of textiles for the War Department, with his present station at Autress Midland, Inc., Davenport, Ia.

Byron Crosman is on the West Coast training in the Army Air Corps. He thought he was to be made Ensign USNR, but something happened, and he went into the Army. Byron's engagement to Miss Leila Pomeroy Hutchins of Orland Park, Ill., was announced last May. We hear their wedding is planned for some time in the winter.

Ferd King is purchasing agent for Atlantic Rayon Co., 86 Crary St., Providence. Fred and Mrs. King—they were married last July—live at 41 South Angell St.

Second Lt. Richard B. Uhle was on duty at the Naval Air Station, Miami, Fla., when he wrote in mid July. His marriage to Miss Dorothy J. Bales took place in late June.

Ensign Merton C. Barstow, Jr., Navy Air Forces, received his commission in June at Jacksonville, Fla., after having taken his preliminary flight training at the Naval Reserve Aviation Base, Squantum, Mass.

Ray Curran was back on the campus in summer to take extra courses to qualify him for a commission in the armed forces.

Ensign E. Howard Hunt, obliged to give up active convoy duty in the North Atlantic because of trouble with his eyes, has written "a realistic novel of U. S. Naval men in action, 'East of Farewell,'" which Alfred A. Knopf will publish this fall. You will recall that Howie majored in English at Brown, and was an earnest student in Professor Kapstein's contemporary novel course.

Cliff Lathrop is assistant controller, Airway Traffic Control, C.A.A., with his mail address 8060 Hawthorne St., Jacksonville, Fla.

Lt. Edward W. Hale is instructor at the Field Artillery School, Ft. Sill, Okla., where his business address is O.C.C., Motors Department. Mrs. Hale was Elsie Ruth Hurst '42, Pembroke College.

Lt. (j.g.) Gordon J. Brown, USNR, whose marriage is reported elsewhere in this issue, is instructor in the Naval Air School, Pensacola, Fla.

Francis W. Rollins, Jr., has been commissioned Lt., Finance Department, USA, and assigned (in July) to an Air Force unit. He was studying at the School of Business Administration, Harvard, when the Army called him. Francis's father is Col. Francis W. Rollins '16, FA, commander of the 43rd Division Artillery.

Phil Heisman, Jr., is a script writer with RKO-Pathé News, Inc., New York, and lives at 64 Sagamore Rd., Bronxville, N. Y.

Everette H. Hunt, Jr., is Ensign, USNR, with his preferred mail address 192 Euclid Ave., Albany, N. Y.

Rev. John Waddicor, special student with the Class during his Providence rectorship at Christ Church, is now assistant minister of Christ Church, Fitchburg, Mass. Although not a Brown graduate, he has been a loyal Brownian and has interested several boys in Brown.

Ensign Charles R. Winterrowd, USNR, is still on duty at the Naval Air Station, Miami, Fla., where he has been teaching British Air Cadets the intricacies of attack

Twins for the Coast Guard

►► THE Gustafson twins, Clifford Stromberg and Clifton Stromberg Gustafson '41, are in the Coast Guard now, and their officers are trying to remember that Clifford is half an inch taller and half a pound heavier than Clifton and that Clifton is the left-handed one. In the Brown Band, Clifton played the trumpet; Clifford played the saxophone. But they got together again after graduation, and worked for a year at the Herreshoff boat yard in Bristol before signing on for the officer's course at the Coast Guard Academy, New London.

They have been sailors ever since they were 14 years old, and for eight summers they have sailed their Puffin in the snipe class and done well in Narragansett Bay races. Their older brother, Prescott W. N. Gustafson '36, is a Boatswain's Mate, 2nd class, at the Block Island station of the Coast Guard, and they agreed that what is good enough for him should also appeal to them. ◀◀ tactics. He was in Chicago in July, and he and Jim Cunningham '41 held reunion.

1941

Ensign Austin Volk, USNR, reported to the Navy for active duty in mid-August. Austin, Chief Petty Officer in the Brown R.O.T.C., continued his studies at Columbia and took further Navy training in New York. When and if he goes to sea, it will not be the first time, as he went on a conditioning cruise aboard the battleship New York in 1940 as a V-7 Volunteer.

Many a Brown man who receives a letter of recommendation from a University officer is thoughtful enough to acknowledge such letter. One who did so recently is Art Bijur, who notified President Wriston that he had completed his course at Officer's Candidate School to which the President recommended him. Bijur, now 2nd Lieutenant, Army Signal Corps, wrote from Long Branch, N. J., that he was "still vastly interested in the University" and was getting "a great kick out of meeting fellow Brown men" in his travels.

Bill Armstrong has successfully completed his advanced aircraft carrier flight training at the Naval Air Station, Miami, Fla., and been commissioned Ensign, US-

NR. He had preliminary training at the Naval Reserve Aviation Base, Squantum, Mass.

Earl W. Harrington, Jr., is Ensign USNR, on duty with the Civil Engineer Corps.

Aviation Cadet C. Harrison Meyer is at Scott Field, Ill., taking "a four months' course in aerial communication." Harry went to Scott Field from Ft. Monmouth, N. J., arriving in August and starting work at once. He is in line for commission as 2nd Lieutenant, Air Corps.

Miles Renear is a student at Episcopal Theological School, Harvard, and is living at One St. John's Rd., Cambridge, Mass.

Ensign Howard E. Rice, USNR, was graduated in August from the Midshipman's School, Northwestern University. He came home to West Warwick for a few days' furlough before reporting for active duty.

Aviation Cadet Peter A. Laudati, Jr., Army Air Forces, is doing graduate work in meteorology at M.I.T. Several months ago, while Pete was working in the weather station at Patterson Field, Dayton, O., he had a visit from John Progers and Frank Wood (both 1940) who were making a routine flight from Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., where John was then instructor.

Vic Hillery, former editor of the Brown Daily Herald, had part of a letter (written in August to Dr. R. Gale Noyes) published in his old paper. Vic is somewhere on the West Coast, we gather, training with a tank unit. "Tank driving is very noisy and dusty," he ended, "but otherwise it isn't very bad."

Hal Detwiler told us during the summer he was with the Department of Justice in Washington, working as U. S. Deputy Marshal, and living at 6815 Eastern Ave., Takoma Park, Md.

Lt. George F. Mould was serving in mid-July at Harding Field, La., as officer with the 768 Quartermaster Co.

Second Lt. Robert P. Fallon, commissioned in the Army Signal Corps at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., in July, spent his furlough in the home town of White Plains, N. Y., before heading for his first assignment.

John R. Marsolini, teacher and coach at Milton, Mass., High School last year and heavy hitter with the Pawtucket Slaters of the New England League, has had his name legally changed to John R. Mars. "The old name sounds too much like that of Italy's dictator," he told the court. "I am about to enter the armed forces and want to be free of this handicap." John made the change at the end of July. Time Magazine perked up its ears.

Pfc Robert G. Myers observed his first year as a soldier in the Army somewhere in Hawaii, where he is serving with a Coast Artillery unit.

Cadet James A. Cunningham, Jr., has been at the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School, Iowa City, Ia., since June, and may be soon on his way to another base for further training. "Our routine makes the old college days look like roses, and would cause Skip Stahley to turn green with envy," Jim said in one of his always newsy letters. Of Jim Sands (Marine Corps Reserve) he said: "Last time I heard from Jim, he was in the West, awaiting shipment to a Pacific outpost. I drove Jim out there in May, and we had a swell trip from Chicago in my car—which should make you gas-rationed Easterners envious."

Centennial Record ◀ ◀

Psi U's Annals

▶ THE University has received from Sigma Chapter of Psi Upsilon a copy of the fraternity Annals, a record of 100 years of student and alumni activity. The presentation, by Col. H. Anthony Dyer '94, was accompanied by a pleasant ceremony in President Wriston's office last spring. For the picture of it we are indebted to The Diamond of Psi Upsilon, a magazine the Alumni Office is glad to welcome regularly.

"It is a well established fact," said Col. Dyer, "that the fraternity life has formed such an important part in the American University life that a book giving a historical sketch of the activities of a college fraternity becomes a most valuable reference in the historical publications of the University, and we realize that this publication which we now have the honor of presenting to you will be a most valued reminder of those social and cultural activities that have been largely developed by these fraternities in our American college life."

In accepting the volume, President Wriston complimented Psi Upsilon, "which in an imitative age has maintained distinctive characteristics and individualistic ideas and ideals."

"Fraternities," he continued, were the product of needs which the colleges failed to supply. They provided certain fundamental human qualities with an outlet they desperately needed. They were a manifestation of the inherently gregarious nature of youth and capitalized upon their capacity for friendship. By frank appeals to the emotions, enhanced by secret and ritualistic expressions, fraternities set as their ideal the very aim of a liberal college—the development of personality. They put their emphasis upon the validity of college experience, upon the reality and significance of day to day life together.

"Like all institutions which minister to the social needs of men, they face critical times. If they are to survive, they must show that resilience, that capacity for adaptation, that devotion to ideals and to standards of value which alone can give assurance of perpetuity. Property which once was a bulwark may become a burden, but purposes which are serene and firm cannot be destroyed."

PSI U TO BROWN: At the ceremony wherein President Wriston received the University's copy of the fraternity's Annals: Left to right, Augustus W. Calder, Jr., '28, John Francis Brown '17, Edward T. Richards '27 (representing the national fraternity's Executive Council and the Executive Committee of the Psi Upsilon Club of Providence), President Wriston, H. Anthony Dyer '94, Joseph F. Lockett, Jr., '42 and Robert R. Miller '43.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

Bob Person is a test engineer with General Electric Co., Schenectady, and has been living at The Manor, Waverly Place, Albany, N. Y.

R. James Smith, Jr., was last reported at Camp Lee, Va., heading for Officers' Training School.

Bob Steinsieck is in his second year at College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia, and Ray Stark is studying at Cornell University Medical College, not so many blocks from Bob in New York.

George Axelrod is in the planning department of the River Works of General Electric Co., West Lynn, Mass., and lives at 33 Egmont St., Brookline, Mass. George's job has to do with procurement of machine tools. "Since graduation," he wrote in a letter to Jim Gurl '38, "my greatest contact with Brown has been through the medium of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY. . . . How the classes of recent years are scattered not only over the country, but also over the world! It certainly makes one feel good to see so many Brown men in the officer ranks."

Weston D. Eastman enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps in July, and went to a southern base for training. Since leaving college Wes has been working for his father in real estate and insurance in Lawrence, Mass.

Channing H. Cox, who has been commissioned Ensign, USNR, had his picture in the Providence Bulletin the last week in August.

Bob Bird is now with the U. S. Navy as inspector of Naval aircraft. Bob was Sergeant, Medical Corps, USA, when he received honorable discharge March 16, 1942, on account of disability.

Albin I. Marshall, Jr., we hear, is a private in the armed forces. Maybe Al will soon let us know where he is and what he is doing.

Bill Stinson wrote from Toledo, O., in July that he was with Blosser & Hill, general agents of Aetna Life Insurance Co., Home Bank Bldg. "I never realized what a treasure such a magazine like the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY could become until graduation when I started traveling," he added. "I have had it forwarded to me in Texas, Mexico, San Diego, Kansas City, and Toledo—and it sure seems good to hear of the Hill when distance has made it miles away, and present time makes it a pleasant memory."

Joe McCormick, expressing a preference for the Field Artillery, got his transfer in August to Ft. Sill, Okla., where he is taking the course at the School for Field Artillery Officers. It's a three months intensive study, and Joe hopes to graduate in November. "I received a copy of Norman Ross's Commencement address, and I think it deserved all the publicity given it," he said in an August letter. "I passed it out to several of the boys here at school, and they thought it was indeed a masterpiece of oratory."

1942

► GRADUATE record blanks, coming back to the Alumni Office from last year's class, tell directly the story of the men. Better than 90% of them, to judge from the first 189 as a sample, are in active military service, in industrial or governmental war work, or in a Reserve status while entering on graduate work. Here are some of the personal items that make up that general picture (as of Sept. 8):

IN SERVICE:

Since leaving college, Bernard R. Andrews, Jr., has been a designing and supervising engineer with Andrews & Goodrich, Inc., in Boston. He's an Ensign in the Coast Guard Reserve.

Russel C. Applegate, Jr., enlisted in the Army in June, is in the Infantry at Fort Meade, Maryland.

Benjamin H. Ballard, Jr., is "with the armed forces."

Richard R. Baxter, at the Army Air Force Technical School at Fort Logan, Colo., writes that Army service hasn't changed the ideas that he contributed as a Senior to a student symposium on "Youth Looks at the War." He gave up a Harvard Law School scholarship to enlist three days after graduation.

Thomas B. Buffum, Jr., went immediately into training after Commencement. An Apprentice Seaman, he's a candidate for Ensign's commission at the USNR Midshipman's School.

William H. Beauchamp entered the Army upon graduation, is a student in the Air Forces Radio Operators' School, Sioux Falls, S. D.

Edmund J. Bennett, who received his A.B. from Stanford this year, is a Flying Cadet, Enlisted Reserve, Army Air Forces.

Donald F. Benton, in the Army since leaving Brown in February, is an instructor in blind flying, using Link Trainers at Westover Field.

Richard H. Brown was ordered to report Sept. 1 for service in the Communications Division of the Army Air Corps.

James G. Buckley, his mother writes, is in India, a Private in the Army Air Corps, serving on the ground. He joined up Oct. 9, 1941, has recovered from blood poisoning that demanded hospitalization.

John D. Bussey is at the Midshipman's School, USNR.

Frederick N. Byerly has been working as a hydraulic lift operator at the Rheem shipyards in Providence while waiting to be called to Candidates' Class for Commission in the Marines at Quantico.

Alabama Latchstring

► A WARM Brunonian welcome awaits any Brown man who comes to Montgomery, Ala., where one of Brown's friendly and loyal alumni, Dr. Samuel R. Damon '16, lives at 205 Thorn Place. Dr. Damon is particularly anxious to offer hospitality to men in service, including those at Maxwell Field, Gunter Field and Selma.

"Make it a blanket invitation," he said when he visited the campus in August to see his undergraduate son. He took home with him the names of the following Brown men then at Maxwell Field: Thomas P. Gallagher '36, John W. Bates '43, Robert M. Cramp '41, Everett O. White, Jr. '42, and Sgt. L. H. Tingley '37.

Robert V. Carter is an aviation cadet, USNR, lately at Lee Field.

Irving J. Casey is a Sergeant in the Army Air Forces, at Detrick Field.

Gordon H. Clarke is in training in New York, a Midshipman in the Reserve.

Robert H. Clarke is studying meteorology in a New York training detachment of the Army Air Force Technical Training Command.

Walter B. Clarkson, answering the question "Occupation, Name of Firm," says simply: "Army." Postmark was Fort Sheridan.

Edward J. Coakley, who joined the USNR as a V-7 man, is at Midshipman's School in New York. Brother John R. Coakley is also a Midshipman candidate for Ensign.

Robert A. Colnes applied his Psychology major as a salesman for B. S. Colnes, drug manufacturers' representatives until enlisting in the Army Signal Corps, Aug. 29. He expected to be at Fort Monmouth.

Walter F. Commander, Private in the Army Air Forces, was at the Miami Beach technical school.

Sidney B. Congdon, Jr., who had a year at Western Reserve after leaving Brown in 1940, went into ordnance for nine months, then into service in the Signal Corps. His mother sent back his blank because Sid was "out of the country." He's a code operator and plane detector.

► STAFF SGT. PILOT RICHARD H. COTTER, now stationed at Eglin Field, Fla., is a test pilot and advanced aerial gunnery instructor, USA Air Forces. In service since September, 1940, he "proves" new "and/or" improved aircraft and instructs pursuit pilots in shooting before they leave for combat.

Jerome Deluty was expecting assignment to duty, having enlisted in the Army Signal Corps Reserves.

William B. Denniston, an Ensign in the Navy, returned his blank from Boston.

Stephen H. Doley is an Ensign in the Naval Supply Corps, stationed on the Pacific Coast.

Richard P. Donovan, an Ensign in the USNR, has had both shore and sea duty.

Frank P. Drummond, of the Army Air Corps, has been at Lowry Field, Denver, for schooling.

George O. Ellis, Jr., expected to start training in the Army Air Corps this fall following enlistment in July. Until then, he's an inspector in the manufacture of bearings by the New Departure Co., of Bristol, Conn.

William C. Giles, Jr., Private in the USA Air Forces, has been in Miami.

Harrison H. Goff is a Midshipman, USNR, in training in New York.

John H. A. Goulding, in the Naval Reserve since 1941, is an Ensign and engineer specialist.

Anton J. C. Graham, an Infantry Lieutenant, is at Fort Benning. He received his A.B. from the University of Illinois in June.

C. Courtney Haskell, who had been with the Railway Express agency in Hyannis, Mass., this summer, was inducted into the Army in mid-August.

Richard T. High, specialist with Crown Cork & Seal Co., went in August to Coast Guard Officers' Training School.

Two weeks after Richard F. Hulme entered Harvard Summer School, he was drafted into the Army. His postmark: Miami, Fla.

Frank J. Jacobson, Jr., took summer courses in mathematics at Brown for Ensign-training school. He'd enlisted in the USNR V-7.

Staff Sgt. Howard Bloom Johnson, who left college in January, is a glider pilot in the USAAC.

Winthrop C. Judson has been at Notre Dame for indoctrination as a V-7 Midshipman, USNR.

David I. Kaplan, in the Army Air Corps, was at Fort Logan, Colo., for technical schooling.

Arnold Katz went to Katz, Campbell Co., textile converting, upon graduation. In the Enlisted Reserve Signal Corps of the Army, he expects to be called at the end of the year.

Bertram T. Kupsinel, a Private in the Army Medical Corps, has been in training at Camp Pickett, Va., Officers Candidate Preparatory School.

▶ DIETER KURATH, after attending the School for Applied Mathematics at Brown, is a Junior Physicist in the Signal Corps, at Fort Monmouth.

Douglas E. Leach, V-7, after training for a Navy Commission at Notre Dame, has moved on to Midshipman's School in New York.

Joseph F. Lockett, Jr., has been at the Cornell Naval Training Station. He's an Ensign, USNR, studying communications, instead of preparing for the ministry as he'd planned.

William Lundgren, in the Army Medical Corps, has been in training at Carlisle Barracks.

Earl F. Luther, Jr., enlisting as soon as he had his Brown degree, is a Naval Aviation Cadet.

Howard B. Lyman, an Army Private (temporarily, he hopes) is at Fort McClellan, Ala. (temporarily, he hopes).

Raymond F. Lynch worked for Rheem Manufacturing Co., Shipbuilding Division, requisitioning material for the production department first along but entered the Army Air Forces as Aviation Cadet in meteorology on Aug. 19.

William H. Mann expected to start training Aug. 31 for class V-7, USNR.

Glenn W. McGee, Jr., went to Chapel Hill for his Pre-Flight Training, is now at Norman, Okla., a V-5 Cadet.

Davol H. Meader described his occupation as follows: "Name of Firm—Builders Iron Foundry, Providence. Nature of Firm's Business—Winning the War. Position—Office Work." Added: "Expect to enter the Army in a few weeks."

Winthrop R. Munyan enlisted as a Private in the USA Signal Corps Reserve June 15.

William E. O'Connor, in the Army Signal Corps Reserve, too, describes himself as a Junior Repairman Trainee in Radio School.

Thomas O. Paine went into the Navy naturally, as the son of Comdr. George T. Paine '15 and with the Boston Navy Yard as his home address. He's a prospective commissioned officer, schooling at the Naval Academy in Annapolis.

Bradley T. Perry is attending the Reserve Officers' Training School, U. S. Coast Guard Academy.

It appeared as though J. E. Peterson, Jr., was in those Louisiana maneuvers, for the envelope from him was postmarked "Monroe." Formerly an accountant for Gilbane Building Co., he's a Private, ground crew.

Stephen W. Pournaras is studying meteorology at the University of Chicago, an Aviation Cadet.

George W. Richardson, who left college in March, 1942, nevertheless qualified for his A.B. at Brown on June 19. He's an Army Aviation Cadet, whose course in meteorology at M.I.T. ends in December.

Leonard A. Romagna still hopes to go into commercial art, but right now he's

He Gave Them Clothing

▶ STEPHEN GRANT STONE, JR., '41 was in a position to encounter a good many Brown men before his recent appointment as an Officer Candidate in training for a commission as 2nd Lieutenant in the Administrative branch of the Army Air Forces. He worked at the Clothing Issue and saw every enlisted man who entered and left an Air Forces Replacement Training Centre down South.

He recalled seeing the following: 1934—Alfred H. Halberstadt; 1938—

Nicholas J. Caldaroni, Frederick M. Gilbreth; 1939—Vincent A. Devaney; 1940—Eben Skillman Church, Jr.; Albert P. Bedell, graduated from O.C.S.; 1941—Walter L. Boughton and Giles A. MacEwen, graduated from O.C.S.; Horace L. Harvey, Thomas P. Rockwell; 1942—Edward J. Dunn, Jr., Richard R. Baxter, William H. Beauchamp; 1943—Walter R. Erickson; 1944—William F. Stringer. Still at the Centre, he said, are: Joseph H. Cullen '35, Finance Department; Steve Stone '41, Theodore I. Libby '41 and William A. McClelland '41, at O.C.S.; James A. Phelan, Jr. '42, drill instructor; Walter F. Commander '42, trainee.

training prior to a commission as Ensign, USCGR.

George C. Rose, Jr., reports his status as "USNR, Officer Training, V-7 Class."

Albert T. Scialfo is an Army Aviation Cadet, awaiting assignment. After the war he hopes to go to law school, he reminds us. Robert Siegel, in training at an Atlantic City technical school, is a Private in the Army Air Corps.

Richard N. Staley, a student member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, is in radio engineering as an Ensign, USNR.

John H. Sullivan has been on active duty in the Navy since graduating. His rank: Ensign, O-V (P), USNR.

Eugene C. Swift, 2nd Lt., US Marine Corps, is stationed at Quantico.

▶ WILLARD R. TERRY, JR., is attending Ordnance Officers Candidate School, although he began his Army career with the Army Air Forces. Describing a full routine, he says "they specialize in blitz courses, and I find my training at both Brown and Worcester stand me in good stead." He had two years at Worcester before coming to Brown. "I've had a grand life since I've been in this man's Army and, except for its ultimate and unfortunate conclusion and purpose, I would say it's a great training for any man."

Albert L. Thayer, who reports his "business address" as "temporary", is an Ensign, USNR.

H. L. Thompson is an Aviation Cadet, USNR, Class V-5.

Terence Riley Thompson was graduated from Quartermaster School at Camp Lee, Aug. 13, and commissioned 2nd Lieutenant before assignment to Orlando, Fla. Thompson left Brown in 1941, being inducted that summer and getting training first in automotive engineering.

Pardon E. Tillinghast, son of Frederick W. Tillinghast '02, is a Seaman, 2nd Class, USN.

Henry F. Tingley, Jr., another Navy man, is Seaman 1st Class.

F. Karl Willenbrock is an engineer doing ordnance research for the Navy.

Frank E. Wilson is an Aviation Cadet at the Army's Chautau Field.

Adolph Charles Wochomurka, a Naval Cadet, is at Squantum, Mass.

Charlie Lloyd wrote in July that a slight operation had kept him from reporting to the Candidates' Class for commission in the Marine Corps Reserve at Quantico but had orders to be there in August. He gave us a fine budget of 1942 news:

Lou Smadbeck was attending Signal Corps cryptography school, accepted because of his work in National Defense Course 58 at Brown.

Fort Monmouth had a good delegation from the class in the Signal Corps, for Tom and Jim Van Raalte had been there since their enlistment in the middle of their Senior year: Ed Sarnoff and Bid Conklin were both wearing gold bars of their 2nd Lieutenant's rank. (Ed has since been taking SMDT work at Harvard.) Tom is a Corporal in the Unit Personnel Office of a Signal Corps outfit.

Larry Hall, who enlisted in the Navy's V-7 while in college, was at Midshipman's School in New York, fortified with Brown Defense courses in Navigation and Gunnery.

Richard P. Cook, after a summer as counsellor at Camp Katahdin in Sweden, Me., plans to take some graduate work at Brown, while teaching and coaching at St. Dunstan's School in Providence.

W. Gray Buckley, Jr., who left Brown after his Freshman year, went to Nichols College of Business Administration, graduating in 1941. He took a position with Hygrade Sylvania Corp. in Salem, Mass., became a member of the Boston Chapter of "Society for the Advancement of Management". He went into the Army in February, has been at Pine Camp, N. Y.

LeRoy Kenyon Jordan is a statistician with the Circular Tool Co., Inc., of Providence, manufacturers of small tools and very busy with the war.

John I. Keay, Ensign, USNR, is attending the Navy's training school in Diesel Engineering at Cornell.

John M. Saplnsky, in training as a Midshipman, USNR, hopes for an Ensign's commission on Oct. 21.

GRADUATE WORK:

▶ ROGERS L. JOHNSON has been a material checker and expeditor for Cox-Spearin Co., doing heavy construction on a war contract. He expects to return to Brown, though, to do a year of graduate work under the Grand Army of the Republic Fellowship.

Working on his Master's degree at Brown is Rex R. Pulford, but he expects to be in the Navy or Coast Guard early in the Fall.

At Yale: In the School of Medicine—Edward M. Daniels, 2nd Lt., Medical Corps Reserve, USA; Leland W. Jones and Lawrence J. Morin, both at Sterling Hall and Ensign H-V(P), USNR. William S. von Arx, lately an assistant in geology at Brown, goes to Yale in October as Dana Fellow in that field.

At Harvard: Murray W. Scott, Jr., a Medical School student since leaving Brown in 1941. Also at Harvard Medical are: Charles A. Leach, Jr., and Edward A. Carr, Jr., the latter at 322 Vanderbilt Hall. Norman B. Orentlicher (Claverly 19) and Robert E. McIntyre (Gallatin B-23) are taking industrial management courses at Harvard Business School. In the Graduate School of Arts and Letters is Robert J. Vernon, Jr. The Nassau Review-Star says he has a fellowship in the school of government, following his Brown honors in political science. Howard R. Barker is a divinity student at Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge.

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

At Tufts Bernard Krasner (2nd Lt., Medical Corps Reserve, USA), Thomas Forsythe, (candidate for a Medical Corps commission, Army Reserve), and Leonard B. Bellin are in Tufts Medical School. In Tufts Dental School are: Josh Berry, R. Henry Gossler (2nd Lt., Army Medical Reserve Officer), and Leo Stone.

William Murray Pfeifer is in the Freshman Class at Marquette University Medical School and has a reserve commission in the Medical Administrative Corps of the Army.

Volmar A. Mereschak is attending the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Donald G. Mikolas, who left Brown in 1941, has completed his first year at the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

Herbert M. Iselin intends to enter Columbia Law School this month.

WAR AIDERS:

► FIVE men in the class are making explosives: Francis L. Sutton is a chemist in a Pennsylvania TNT plant. Earl H. Ashley, Jr., is making smokeless powder in Oklahoma, asked to be put in touch with the Brown Club there. Harry D. Pogson is a Hoosier chemist. Richard D. Holbrook, an operator in the manufacture of TNT for the General Chemical Defense Corporation, has been elected to a junior membership in the Chemist's Club of New York. Raymond E. Blomstedt is with Dupont's explosive division.

Eugene J. Keenoy, Jr., is a junior test engineer with Wright Aeronautical Corp., Bloomfield, N. J. Also working for Curtiss Wright Co. are Edward D. Sheffe, Jr., in Paterson; David Golineer in Buffalo; and Henry B. Whitman in Caldwell. James E. Fish is also an engineer in the manufacture of airplane motors but with Pratt & Whitney, Hartford. He's living at 24 Jarvis Hall, Trinity College. Irving W. Patterson, Jr., is a stress analyst for Glenn L. Martin Co., in Maryland.

H. C. Wagner is a marine service engineer with the Sperry Gyroscope Co., Brooklyn, N. Y. He's a member of the A.S.M.E.

Charles E. Spencer, III, is assistant to the personnel manager at the Electric Boat Co., Groton, Conn.

David Troup says his work as stock clerk at Brown and Sharpe in Providence is temporary.

Joseph S. Burton, Jr., is a tool designer with the Weldon Tool Company of Cleveland, manufacturers of steel cutting tools.

William J. Degnan is an electrical test engineer in the Philadelphia Test Office of General Electric. He's a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Clayton C. Timbrell is an intern in the personnel section of the Federal Works Agency at the Brookings Institution in Washington. He was an intern at the National Institute of Public Affairs earlier in the year.

Granino A. Korn, with an appointment as assistant in Physics at Columbia University, has been an instructor in the Stevens Institute of Technology's War Industries School.

J. Robert Orpen, Jr., is a transportation clerk with the New Haven Railroad, working in the famous Yellow Building in New Haven.

Jared Linsly, Jr., is with the American Steel and Wire Co., New Haven, as an inspector of quality for this producer of wire rope. Joseph E. Kelly is a research and design engineer for the Radio Corporation of America Manufacturing Co. in Harrison, N. J. He's on the membership roll of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Some home addresses: Frederick C. Allgeier, 179 Harrison St., East Orange, N. J.; Frederick A. Anderson, 1162 Bishop Rd., Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Paul Butterweck, Brookline Rd., Scarsdale, N. Y.; Ralph A. Hirts, c/o Siegfried Peierls, 260 Riverside Dr., New York; William R. Potter, 280 Irving Ave., Providence; Leo Dunn, 107 Payson St., Fitchburg, Mass.

P. A. Angelone is manager of Angelone's Wine Shop at 608 Charles St., Providence.

Arthur E. Beane, Jr., is a group underwriter with John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., Boston. Also in the insurance field is Salesman Henry W. Hayes, of Liberty Mutual's agency in Springfield, Mass.

Edward R. O'Shea is a credit man with the Manufacturing Trust Co. of New York, living at 118 Pembroke Pl., Kew Gardens, Long Island, his old home town.

LATER NEWS:

Everett O. White, Jr., was a field representative for General Motors Acceptance Corp., living at 47 Myrtle Ave., Cranston, until March. Now he's an Army Air Corps Cadet at Maxwell Field.

David W. Baker has received his commission as Ensign, USNR.

Donald T. Bliss has entered Harvard Medical School and is living at 219 Vanderbilt Hall, a floor below Ed Carr.

Shailer R. Cummings is a Naval Aviator with an Ensign's rank, USNR. He's been at Miami.

William H. Danforth, Jr., took a special navigation course at Boxell's School in Boston with other Brown men. One was Morton D. Furber, "who should by now have received his commission as an Ensign in the Coast Guard Reserve." "Joe Lockett also went to this school, as did Charles Bruno '43 and Sam Pilkington '43. At present I am waiting to be sworn in as an Apprentice Seaman in V-7 Naval Reserve."

Danforth passed along other news, too: "Frederic Henry Hall is to be married Sept. 12 to Joyce Amy Bennett, Pembroke '42. Matthew John Mitchell is at the Harvard Business School, doing very well there. He's quite elated to be in the upper third of his class, along with Norman Ross, a Phi Beta. William B. Denniston, Ensign, USNR, is over at the Naval Engineering School at Wentworth Institute in Boston and is rooming at 90 Beacon St., with Roland Harmon, an English instructor at Brown, now a Lt. (j.g.), USN. John Piel was home on a 10-day furlough from his work in the weather forecasting department of the U. S. Armed Forces." You can easily believe him when he says he runs into Brown men everywhere.

Charles Folsom-Jones is a student preparing for the Episcopal ministry at Berkeley Divinity School, New Haven. John S. Heidt had similar intentions at Andover.

Gustave Hill, Jr., was at Squantum, Mass., when he wrote he was a Naval Aviation Cadet.

William W. Lambert, after summer work in a Taunton store, has gone to the University of Nebraska, where he is a graduate assistant in Psychology.

John F. Pendleton has had an interesting time of it since leaving Brown in 1941. He's worked at the Bethlehem Steel Company Ship Building Division, Fore River Yard and Hingham Yard. Now he's a 1st Class Seaman, working in the personnel division of the latter.

Aubrey L. Raymond, who married Barbara P. Ham, star Brownbroker, is a flying officer in the USA Air Corps, a 2nd Lieutenant.

Thomas T. Ryan, who entered the armed services as soon as he had graduated, is in Denver, with the Army Air Corps.

John R. Whitney's occupation he gives as "soldier." His blank came to us, not from his home town of Ulysses, Pa., but from Albany, Ga.

MORE SERVICE MEN:

► EDWARD M. BARR, who took pilot training at Maxwell Field, has been a 2nd Lieutenant since June and writes from Bowman Field.

William H. Beauchamp has been a radio student at the Army Air Forces Technical School, Sioux Falls this summer.

Leonard R. Burgess is still in the South, an acting Corporal at the message centre of a Tank Destroyer battalion.

Charles Collis, Jr., is on active duty as an Ensign. So is Russell R. Jalbert.

Aviation Cadet Edward J. Dunn, Jr., gave us no address because of the imminence of a transfer. He's in the Army Air Forces.

Richard G. Dunn was at Lowry Field from May 20 in technical school.

Calvin Fisher, Jr., is at Chapel Hill in the Navy's pre-flight training.

2nd Lt. William K. Glen is at Pensacola, an instructor in the Marine Air Corps. In July he completed advanced aircraft carrier flight training.

Douglas E. Gray is at Camp Shelby, an Army Sergeant.

Kenneth M. Greene, an Army Private, has been at Camp Walters, Tex., since Aug. 20.

Roger E. Hard, Jr., who left Brown in 1940, is now a Lt. (j.g.) Class V-7, lately at sea. John A. Harman, an Ensign, USNR, since last September, has also been assigned to sea duty.

Ernest G. Israel is a Lieutenant with the 73rd Coast Artillery AA.

Harry C. Kirkpatrick is studying at the Jefferson Barracks Technical School of the Army Air Forces, according to a letter from Steve Dolley.

2nd Lt. William A. Leahy, commissioned last February, is with Marine Corps Unit No. 755, c/o Postmaster, San Francisco.

Francis J. Leary, Jr., and Raymond T. Leary, brothers, are also brother officers, both Ensigns with the Motor Torpedo Boats.

R. Ashley Lewis, Ens. A-V(S), USNR, is a material officer in the gunnery division, after being an Aviation Cadet at Jacksonville.

Gordon T. McEvoy is at Chanute Field's Link Trainer Instructor School, Marvin A. Rothlein '34 says.

Frank W. Myers, Jr., reports his duties aboard a submarine chaser as C. O. Engineering.

James A. Phelan, Jr., has been Assistant Morning Report Clerk at Miami Beach's Army Air Forces Technical Training School since May 16.

PRINCESS MARY WHITE

SHE'S just seven years old, she lives at 514 Plum Street, her father is plain Bill White. Most people notice her pigtails and her blue eyes, but they never guess they're in the presence of royalty.

But we know!

Maybe that's because we know more about her kingdom—the kingdom she'll be queen of one day than these people. It's no ordinary kingdom, this—it combines the best features of all the fairy stories you ever read rolled into one. Instead of an ordinary marble palace, she'll have a real home made of inexpensive materials that you haven't even heard of yet, flooded with sunlight, and opening on the whole outdoors.

Instead of a pumpkin coach, she'll drive a car such as you have never dreamed of, and fly a plane as readily as you would drive a car. Plastic shoes will be her glass slippers. And her servants will all be electric, for electricity, in modern electric appliances for cooking, heating, cooling, and cleaning, is just about the best servant man has ever had.

Where is this fairyland? It's right here in America, tomorrow!

But how can we be sure that this is not just another fairy tale? Because American industry has already made enough discoveries and developments to reveal to us the shape of things to come. New materials like plastics, new developments like television, new sciences like electronics, assure us of this—and promise even more.

Today's job is fighting for that better world. But when tomorrow comes, American industry, once again busy producing things to make living better, will help to make tomorrow's young men and women more truly princes and princesses than the heroes of yesterday's fairy tales. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

☆ ☆ ☆

The volume of General Electric war production is so high and the degree of secrecy required is so great that we cannot tell you about it now. When it can be told we believe that the story of industry's developments during the war years will make one of the most fascinating chapters in the history of industrial progress.

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

952-3264-211

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

H. Grant Prizer is "in the Navy." That's all we know.

Arthur B. Rice is an Engineer with a Utility Detachment at Camp Claiborne. He's been a Sergeant since last November.

Joseph H. Roberts is a coxswain at Manomet Coast Guard Station in Massachusetts.

Robert K. Rockwell has finished the grind at Fort Monmouth school and has his Lieutenant's commission in the Army Air Corps.

George H. Rooney, Jr., is at Fort Totten in the Army Quartermaster Corps, Brooke Anderson has heard.

Ernest T. Savignano, a Marine Lieutenant, was still at Quantico the last we knew.

Harris Smith is an armorer, turret specialist with the Army Air Corps. APO 875, c/o Postmaster, N. Y.

Harvey Spear has been at the New River Marine Base since July, a 2nd Lieutenant with a Regimental Weapons Company.

William A. Spicer, 3rd, who entered service last March, is in Great Britain, a Corporal in the Army's Service of Supply.

W. Birkett Williams, a pursuit pilot with the rank of 2nd Lt., is with the AEF.

Jonathan B. Duthie was inducted Sept. 9, is at Camp Upton.

John E. Holden has reported for Naval Aviation Flight Training at Chapel Hill, according to the Mount Vernon Argus.

Bob Priestley is back in the football headlines. He caught two touchdown forward passes that enabled the Philadelphia Eagles, pro eleven, to defeat the College All-Stars 16-8 in Philadelphia Aug. 31 before 75,000. He'd been at Quantico's Marine Corps Officer Training School.

It was May-June-July with Eugene C. Carson. Graduation was in May, signed up in June with the Coast Guard Reserve, received orders in July to report to New London. The Hightstown Gazette commented: "So you see, it isn't too hard to get into the armed services—if you really want to."

Edward W. Proctor, living at 2600 South Hayes St., Arlington, Va., is doing statistical work in the War Department, Washington.

▶ JUST to complete the class record, may we remind you that the following names of '42 men also appeared in the University's preliminary war service record in the July issue of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY: John W. Case, 2nd Lt., FARC; Michael M. Cooper, Pvt., USAAF; Scott Field; Eugene J. Coughlin, Pvt., Basic Tng., Westover Field; William I. Crooker, USAAC Cadet, M.I.T.; John E. Day, Ensign, USCG Acad.; Richard P. Donovan, Ensign, USNR; Charles M. Echeverria, Ensign, USN; George W. Gould, Jr., Dow Field, Walter J. Joyce, USAAC Cadet; C. J. Lincoln, USA, Miami Beach; Ensign B. Nason, Ensign, USNR; Carlyle Newton, Cadet, USN ACR, Jacksonville; Daniel H. Noonan, Pvt. (Med. Tng.), Camp Lee; Willard C. Parker, 2nd, USA AC; Dana F. Peck, USN Avn. Cadet, Jacksonville; Robert N. Pevoto, Pvt., (Med. Tng.), Camp Lee; William G. Remington, 2nd Lt., Ord., USA, Aberdeen Proving Ground; George L. Rockwell, Ensign, USN AC; V. Lloyd Sheehan, Pvt., USA, Ft. Jackson; John H. Stone, Ensign, USNR; Justin R. Whiting, 3rd, Ensign, USNR.

Engagements

▶ ▶ 1925—Miss JEAN FRANCES APGAR PIERSON, daughter of Mrs. Harry A. Pierson of Dover, N. H., to Edward D. Jenkins. Miss Pierson attended Rutgers School of Journalism.

1928—Miss Virginia Mill Lauriat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lauriat of West Medford, Mass., to Earl E. Tucker.

1931—Miss Edith Helen Munson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Munson of Montclair, N. J., to Cecil E. Roche. Miss Munson is a graduate of Swarthmore College.

1935—Miss Kathryn Rita Rubino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Rubino of Camden, N. J., to Sgt. John W. Humphrey. Miss Rubino is a graduate of the Peirce School, Philadelphia.

1936—Miss Elizabeth Carey Brennan (Pembroke '34), sister of James E. Brennan, Jr., of Pawtucket, to Paul O. Connly.

1936—Miss Harnet Kraut, daughter of Mrs. Herman Kraut of Bridgeport, Conn., to Joseph Gerstl.

1938—Miss Beatrice Amy Woolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Woolley of Providence, to John W. Tingley, Jr. Miss Woolley is a graduate of Radcliffe College.

1939—Miss Margaret Jane Cheney, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Walter L. Cheney of Washington, D. C., to Pfc. Wilbur F. Eastman, Jr. Miss Cheney graduated from Oberlin in 1940.

1939—Miss Judith Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jackson of Lansdowne, Pa., to Norman L. Guy. Miss Jackson attended the University of Pennsylvania.

1939—Miss Alice Marie Astle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Astle of Dorchester, Mass., to James N. Kirby.

1940—Miss Jane Emily Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn H. Jennings of Hackensack, N. J., to Josiah Hazard Crooker. Miss Jennings attended Boston University.

1940—Miss Leila Pomeroy Hutchins of Orland Park, Ill., to John Byron Crosman.

1940—Miss Louise Carolyn Alden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Alden of New York City, to Lt. David F. Howe, USA. Miss Alden was graduated in 1941 from George Washington University.

1940—Miss Muriel Arhne Selby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Selby of Hoxsle, R. I., to Aviation Cadet Douglas Martland. Miss Selby was graduated from Rhode Island State College.

1940—Miss Myra Jane Hadfield, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Demarville of Seekonk, Mass., to Lt. Robert T. Poole. Miss Hadfield attended Pembroke College.

1940—Miss Marjorie Ruth Arnold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Arnold of Achushnet, Mass., to Lt. Elliott Roberts. Miss Arnold attended Kinyon's Commercial School.

1941—Miss Charlotte Jane Whittemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Whittemore of Engelwood, N. J., to Robert Bird.

1941—Miss Mary Louise Lucas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Lucas of New Britain, Conn., to Ensign William R. T. Crohus, USNR. Miss Lucas attended Connecticut College.

1941—Miss Dorothy Ann Nelson (Pembroke '41), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest P. Nelson of Hamden, Conn., to Sgt. William A. McClelland.

1941—Miss Dorothy Jayne McColl, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Joseph W. McColl, Jr., USN, of Washington, D. C., to Ensign William P. Sheffield, 3rd, USNR, son of William P. Sheffield, Jr., '15 and Mrs. Sheffield. Miss McColl was graduated from the Edgewood Park College, Briarcliffe Manor, N. Y.

1941—Miss Ruth Cole Dibbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dibbell of Pompton Lakes, N. J., to Kenneth A. Wood. Miss Dibbell graduated from Centenary Junior College.

1942—Miss Elizabeth Mae Parmelee, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Berkley M. Parmelee of Stratford, Conn., to Pvt. Russel C. Applegate, Jr., USA. Miss Parmelee is attending her Senior year at Pembroke.

1942—Miss Catherine Schatz (Pembroke '40), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schatz, of Dorchester, Mass., to Earl E. Brant.

1942—Miss Helena Collins Smith (Pembroke '42), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Smith of Brockton, Mass., to Richard G. Dunn, USA.

1942—Miss Betty M. Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Olson of Worcester, Mass., to Gordon W. Niemitz.

Providence National Bank

ESTABLISHED 1791

100 Westminster Street

CAPITAL $1,500,000
SURPLUS $2,000,000

OFFICERS

Moses J. Barber, Chairman of the Board
Thomas L. Pierce, President
Rupert C. Thompson, Jr., 1st Vice President and Cashier

George P. Buell, Vice President
William H. Swift, III, Vice President
Charles L. Eddy, Assistant Cashier
Henry H. Eddy, Assistant Cashier
Charles E. Munyan, Assistant Cashier
Benjamin H. Cate, Assistant Cashier
Charles M. Smith, III, Trust Officer
Harry B. Freeman, Trust Officer
B. H. Lillibridge, Assistant Trust Officer

Directors

William Gammell, Jr. John B. Lewis
Moses J. Barber Charles C. Marshall
Edward P. Jastram Richmond Viall
A. Livingston Kelley Maxwell C. Huntoon
Wilson G. Wing Charles E. Rigby
Thomas L. Pierce William S. Allen
William L. Sweet Robert J. Beede
Frederick T. Moses Rupert C. Thompson, Jr.

Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

Miss Olson attended the R. I. School of Design.

1943—Miss Lenna A. Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Palmer of Weymouth, Mass., to Avn. Cadet E. Anthony Buxton, USNR, son of Dr. Bertram H. Buxton '04 and Mrs. Buxton. Miss Palmer is a member of the senior class at Pembroke.

1943—Miss Mary Jane Baum, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Baum of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to H. Wilson Guernsey, Jr.

1943—Miss Louise Fitzpatrick (Pembroke '41), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Fitzpatrick of Providence, to Lieut. William L. Irvine, Jr., USA.

1944—Miss Eleanor Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Martin of Boston, Mass., to William W. Townson.

Weddings

► 1928—LYMAN B. AVERY and Miss Mary Gertrude Tuzo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Tuzo of Fanwood, N. J., Aug. 27, 1942. Mrs. Avery is a graduate of Russell Sage College.

1930—Pvt. H. Adrian Smith, USA, and Miss Anna Ames Fuller in the First Congregational Church-Unitarian, Providence, June 30, 1942.

1933—Sgt. Maxwell G. Hoberman, USA, and Florence Lois Beresky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beresky of Hartford, Conn., July 23, 1942. At home: 130 Madden Avenue, Macon, Ga.

1933—Neal W. Hughes and Miss Barbara Anne Rodenbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Rodenbach of Naugatuck, Conn., on the lawn of the Rodenbach summer home at Madison, Sept. 5, 1942. The bride is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College in 1941.

1934—Coburn A. Buxton and Miss Elizabeth Alden Littlefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden L. Littlefield of Pawtucket, R. I., in St. Matthews Episcopal Cathedral in Dallas, Tex., Aug. 7, 1942.

1934—Philip B. Thoresen and Miss Eleanor Frances Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Jackson of Pawtucket, at the home of the bride's parents, July 19, 1942.

1936—Charles W. Bubier and Miss Anne Theresa Dahlen, daughter of Mrs. Henry S. Dahlen of Providence, at Trinity Lutheran Church, Thief River Falls, Minn., Aug. 31, 1942. The bride is a graduate of the Moorhead (Minn.) State Teachers College. At home: 201 Angell St., Providence, R. I.

1936—Lt. John O. F. Nolan, USA MC, and Miss Elizabeth Rita Blanchard (Pembroke '35), daughter of Mrs. Victor L. Blanchard of Pawtucket, and the late Mr. Blanchard, at St. Mary's Church, Sept. 3, 1942.

1937—2nd Lt. Charles H. Anderson, USA, and Miss Francoise Archambault, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Alberic A. Archambault of West Warwick, R. I., Aug. 9, 1942. The bride graduated from Pembroke in 1938. At home: 155 N. 27th St., Paris, Texas.

1937—Donald L. Daniels and Miss Janice Estelle Blum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Blum of Brookline, Mass., at the Hotel Kenmore, Boston, Aug. 23, 1942. Everett J. Daniels '41 was best man for his brother, and Harold Hassenfeld '37 was one of the ushers.

1937—Otto F. Knutsen and Miss Betty Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leshe Nichols of Shaker Heights, Ohio, at the Church of the Saviour, Aug. 15, 1942. The bride attended Wellesley College. At home: 14401 Milverton Road, Shaker Heights, Ohio.

1937—Lt. Jay D. Mann, USA MC, and Miss Peggy Lehair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Lehair of New York City, in the Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 26, 1942. Mrs. Mann graduated from the College of William and Mary, and received her Master's degree from the Teachers College, Columbia University.

1938—Milton C. Clark and Miss Rachel Andrews Clift, daughter of the late Capt. and Mrs. C. W. Clift, in the First Parish Church of Brockton, Aug. 1, 1942.

1938—Ensign Leo Loeb, Jr., USNR, and Miss Shirley Charlotte Keno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keno of East Orange, N. J., Aug. 6, 1942.

1938—Lt. Robert D. Macklin, USN, and Miss Elinor Marie Kane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kane of Washington, D. C., in the rectory of the Shrine of the Most Blessed Sacrament, Aug. 10, 1942. The bride is a graduate of the Wilson Teachers' College. The bridegroom attended Brown for two years and then was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in February, 1941.

1938—Norman P. Prudden and Miss Frances Lucille Gill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward F. Gill of Providence, in St. Sebastian's Church rectory, Sept. 5, 1942. The bride is a graduate of Forsythe Dental Infirmary, Boston.

1938—Corp. William Rice, USA, and Miss Sara Barbara Cranston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cranston of Edgewood, in the Church of the Transfiguration, July 11, 1942. Lt. Richard Rice '34, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Robert A. Cranston '39, brother of the bride, was head usher.

1939—William C. Bieluch and Miss Nellie Sidor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Sidor of Hartford, Conn., in Holy Trinity Church, Washington, D. C., July 4, 1942. At home: 2006B 37th St., S. E., Washington, D. C.

1939—Ensign Frank P. Comstock, USNR, son of Andrew B. Comstock '10, and Miss Mary Agnes McAuliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon F. McAuliffe of Providence, in St. Matthew's rectory, Cranston, Aug. 8, 1942. At home: Eastland Hotel, Portland, Maine.

1939—John S. Davison and Miss Jane Baker Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Bell of Petersburg, Va. and Plymouth, N. H., in Brooks Hall of Columbia University, May 23, 1942. The bride is a graduate of Barnard College, Columbia University, and received her master's degree from Bryn Mawr College. At home: Squam Lake, Holderness, N. H.

1939—Walter N. Jackson and Miss Priscilla May Thomson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Oscar Thomson of Oberlin, Ohio, June 16, 1942. At home: 4257 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, Ill.

1939—Lt. James M. Millard, USA Air Corps Reserve Pilot, and Miss Jane Barbara MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry W. MacDonald of Gaspee Plateau, R. I., July 18, 1942. At home: 144 Buckingham Drive, Indianapolis, Ind.

1939—2nd Lt. Charles H. Mullen, USA, and Miss Anne Claire Harrington, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peter F. Harrington of Fall River, Mass., in the rectory of the church of the Holy Name, July 21, 1942. The bride graduated from Pembroke in 1939.

1939—Ensign Raymond S. Penza, USNR, and Miss Tina Marie Sammartino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Achille Sammartino of Providence, in the Blessed Sacrament Church, July 18, 1942.

1939—John H. Rowe, son of the late L. Earle Rowe '04 and Mrs. Rowe, and Miss Barbara Bent Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Burnett of Waban, Mass., in Union Church, June 5, 1942. The bride attended the Oberlin Conservatory of Music.

1940—Lt. (j.g.) Gordon J. Brown, USNR, and Miss Catherine Bettina Winchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford B. Winchell of Commicut, in the Woodbury Union Church, Aug. 15, 1942.

1940—Ensign Kenneth D. Clapp, USNR, and Miss Barbara Ellen Carens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Carens of Arlington, Mass., in St. Agnes' Church, Aug. 15, 1942. Robert T. Engles '40 was the best man, and William M. Bancroft '37 was one of the four USNR officers serving as ushers.

1940—Duncan W. Cleaves and Miss Sara Lazarte Vince, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Vince of Chuquicamata, Chile, at the Chilex Club, Chuquicamata, June 6, 1942. The bride attended the Santiago College for Women, Chile, the Weirfield School and the Wellgarth Training College, both of London.

THE BLACKSTONE CANAL NATIONAL BANK of Providence

ESTABLISHED 1831 • • 20 MARKET SQUARE

Capital $500,000

Surplus and Undivided Profits (over) $1,000,000

All Forms of Commercial Banking and Trust Service

MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Brown Alumni Monthly

Published at Brown University by the Associated Alumni

CHESLEY WORTHINGTON '23
Managing Editor

ARTHUR BRAITSCH '23
Business Manager

LOUIS B. PALMER '28

ALFRED H. GURNEY '07

GERTRUDE ALLEN McCONNELL
Pembroke Correspondent

Subscriptions, $2 a year. Single copies, 25 cents.
There is no issue during August or September.

Entered at the Providence Post Office as second-class matter

Vol. XLIII OCTOBER, 1942 No. 3

1940—Avn. Cadet Russell W. Field, Jr., USA, and Miss Carolyn Sherman, daughter of Mr. Edwin F. Sherman of Barrington, and the late Mrs. Sherman, at St. John's Church, Aug. 14, 1942. At home: Holden Green, Cambridge, Mass.

1940—Lt. Samuel M. Gourse, USA, and Miss Dorothy Janice Berger (Pembroke '42), daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert C. Berger of Providence, at the bride's home, Sept. 6, 1942.

1940—Ensign David P. Housh, USNR, and Miss Edith Miriam Kellogg, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Kellogg of Queens, N. Y., in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, New Preston, Conn., Sept. 5, 1942. The bride is a graduate of National Park College.

1940—Frederick E. King and Miss Elaine Frances Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Wright of Waterbury, Conn., in St. Martin's Church, July 25, 1942. At home: 41 South Angell St., Providence, R. I.

1940—Lt. Herbert F. Lewis, USA, and Miss Virginia Frances Berryman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Berryman of Champaign, Ill., in the chapel of the Emanuel Episcopal Church, Aug. 29, 1942.

1941—John H. Clayton and Miss Dorothy Jaap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Jaap of Chicago, Ill., July 31, 1942.

1941—Avn. Cadet Peter A. Laudati, Jr., and Miss Adrienne Byxbee Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Saunders of Connecticut, R. I., at St. Benedict's Church, July 25, 1942. At home: 210 Riverway Drive No. 25, Boston, Mass.

1941—Pvt. William A. Millard, USA, and Miss Harriet Janet Spencer, niece of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Golden of Pawtuxet, in Trinity Church, Aug. 17, 1942.

1941—Sgt. William C. Seaman, USA, and Miss Katharine Lawrence Malcolm, daughter of Mrs. Marie Malcolm of Trenton, N. J., in the All Saints' Chapel of Trinity Cathedral, Aug. 15, 1942. Mrs. Seaman graduated from the New Jersey College for Women.

1941—William A. Stinson and Miss Carolyn Fleming Shutter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle W. Shutter of West Haven, Conn., at the home of the bride's parents, Aug. 29, 1942. John C. Braman '40 was the best man, and Arnold R. Eggert '41 was an usher.

1942—Ensign Charles Collis, USNR, and Miss Margaret Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Howell of Babylon, N. Y., at the First Presbyterian Church, July 11, 1942. The bride was graduated from the New Jersey College for Women in June.

1942—William Joseph Degnan and Miss Ruth Edith Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Marshall of North Providence, R. I., in Beneficent Congregational Church, Aug. 15, 1942. At home: 916 South 47th St., West Philadelphia, Pa.

1942—William K. Glen and Mrs. Mary Wood Hurlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Hurlin '12 of Jackson Heights, L. I., N. Y., at the Little Church Around the Corner, June 25, 1942.

1942—Lt. Robert K. Rockwell, USA Air Corps, and Miss Priscilla Randall Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Church of Lincoln, in Boston, Mass., Aug. 24, 1942. At home: 841 South Dakota St., Tampa, Fla.

1943—Edmund F. Armstrong, USCGR, and Miss Frances Scott Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Holbrook of Providence, at the Buttonwoods Chapel, Sept. 5, 1942. The bride is a graduate of Colby Junior College and the Boston School of Occupational Therapy. At home: Box 454, Provincetown, Mass.

1943—Ensign Robert W. McCullough, USCGR, and Miss Margaret Elizabeth Hammons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Hammons of Cumberland Foreside, Maine, in the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Aug. 12, 1942. Mrs. McCullough attended Bryn Mawr College.

1943—Avn. Cadet William K. Saunders, USA, and Miss Frances Howard Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Wilson of Barrington, at St. John's Church, Aug. 22, 1942. Matthew Mitchell '42 was an usher.

1944—Charles F. Gladding, 2nd, USNR, and Miss Marilyn Ann Newth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Newth of Barrington, R. I., at the rectory of St. Brendan's Church, Aug. 18, 1942. Mrs. Gladding attended Pembroke College. At home: 21 Jenny's Lane, Barrington, R. I.

1944—Lt. George Hadley, Jr., USA, and Miss Marian MacMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacMillan of Elizabeth, N. J., in the rectory of St. Elizabeth's Church, July 18, 1942.

Births

► 1922—To Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Dubois of New York City, a daughter, Dina Downing, Aug. 13, 1942.

1925—To Mr. and Mrs. Irving J. True of Edgewood, a son, William Thompson, June 30, 1942.

1929—To Mr. and Mrs. Allason N. Clark of Evanston, Ill., a third son, David Frederick, Aug. 11, 1942.

1929—To Mr. and Mrs. John H. Drea-son of New York City, a daughter and second child, Dorothy Lockhart, July 16, 1942.

1929—To Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Feiner of Providence, a second son, Michael Carl, June 12, 1942.

1929—To Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Slepko of Riverside, a son, Martin Philip, July 21, 1942.

1930—To Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Clamon of Providence, a daughter, Judith Abby, Aug. 18, 1942.

1931—To Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Gerry of West Newton, Mass., a son, James Eugene, Aug. 2, 1942.

1931—To Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Walter of Albany, N. Y., a daughter, Ellen Braze, June 30, 1942.

1933—To Dr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Conte of Providence, twins, Alfred Clement, Jr., and Anne Louise, Aug. 17, 1942.

1934—To Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Eggert of New Britain, Conn., a son, Gerald Mattson, July 25, 1942.

1934—To Mr. and Mrs. Herschel E. Fowler of Flushing, N. Y., a second son, John Frederick, July 6, 1942.

1934—To Mr. and Mrs. Oscar P. Hammer of Weehawken, N. J., a son, Carl Stevens, Aug. 21, 1942.

1934—To Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft Littlefield of Providence, a son, Bancroft Littlefield, Jr., Aug. 6, 1942.

1934—To Dr. and Mrs. Leroy D. Vandam of Boston, a son, Albert Rutherford, July 7, 1942.

1936—To Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Graham of New York City, a son and first child, Geoffrey Cameron, Sept. 1, 1942.

1938—To Ensign and Mrs. Philip H. McLaughlin of Providence, a daughter, Meredith Hicks, July 14, 1942.

1941—To Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Viall of East Providence, a son, Charles Carpenter, Jr., July 17, 1942. ◀ ◀

Those We Mourn

1885

► ► CHARLES EDWIN BASSETT, college and professional baseball player who was a member of the Providence Grays of 1884—the first world championship baseball team—died at Memorial Hospital, Pawtucket, May 28, 1942, after a five weeks' illness. He had been retired for the past 10 years.

"The happiest days were at Brown—the days of the big games with Yale, Harvard, Princeton," he told a Providence Sunday Journal interviewer years ago. "There was a thrill and romance to them that I never obtained years later, even in the World Series."

Signing with the Providence team as a catcher before completing his college course, he was shifted to third base and then to second base. During his major league career he played with Providence, Kansas City, Indianapolis, New York. As third baseman with the New York Giants he led the National League in fielding one year just as he had led the so-called college league of 1884 in hitting while he covered third base for the Brown nine. Former Supreme Court Justice Norman S. Dike '85 was the Brown manager.

Returning to Providence after his major league career ended, Bassett played for several seasons with the Grays, then in the Eastern League, and retired in 1897. He joined the Pawtucket police force in 1898. Shortly after he left the force in 1924 to go on pension he went to work as guard for Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co. in Pawtucket, and was on duty until about 10 years ago. He carried a life pass to major league baseball games; he knew all the baseball stars; and he loved to talk baseball with friends and acquaintances.

Bassett was born in Central Falls, Feb. 9, 1863, the son of William and Frances (Smith) Bassett. Surviving are his wife, the former Florence M. Sprague of Limerock, a son by his first marriage, and two grandchildren.

1889

► ► PRESCOTT FORD JERNEGAN, A.B., who died in Galveston, Tex., Feb. 23, 1942, was a former Baptist minister and school teacher who spent 25 years as teacher and principal in the secondary schools of Manila and Honolulu. He was the author of "Short History of the Philippines," several textbooks used in the Philippine schools, and of the Philippine national song.

In 1898 he figured prominently in the news as inventor of a process for extraction of gold from sea water. A stock company called the Electrolytic Marine Salts Co., with Jernegan as Vice-President and General Manager, was incorporated under the laws of the State of Maine, and stock was sold from an office in Boston. The gold extraction plant, according to the prospectus, was at North Lubec, Me. The inventor and his associates had also carried on experiments in Long Island Sound, Narragansett Bay (Silver Spring), Portsmouth, Stokes Bay, and Whitstable-by-the-Sea, England.

But "the only company in the world carrying on a commercially successful business in accumulating gold from sea water" ran into difficulties; and three years later Jernegan joined the Bureau of Education in Manila. He left Manila in 1910 for Hawaii, where he was principal of Hilo High School and of McKinley High School, Honolulu, until his retirement in 1927. He also taught for a year at San Jose, Calif., High School. He was a former member of the Philippine Academy, and belonged to Phi Beta Kappa and the Baptist Church.

After graduation from Brown, where his activities included the Y. M. C. A. and the crew, he taught Greek and Latin for a year at Phillips Academy, Andover, and then entered Newton Theological Institution: from which he received his diploma in 1892. He served as pastor of the First Baptist Church, Middletown, Conn., for three years, and of the First Baptist Church, De Land, Fla., for a year before going into business.

He was born in Edgartown, Mass., Dec. 17, 1866, the son of Jared and Helen M. (Clark) Jernegan. Married three times, he is survived by two sons, Leland P. and Prescott E. Jernegan, and by a brother, Dr. Marcus W. Jernegan '96 of Edgartown, Emeritus Professor of History, University of Chicago.

1892

► FRANK COLLINS BAKER, Sc.B., Curator Emeritus, Museum of Natural History, University of Illinois, died in Urbana, May 7, 1942, after an operation. For 50 years a student of mollusca, he was a recognized authority on land snails. He collected 20,000 specimens of Illinois mollusca, wrote books and papers about them.

Born in Warren, Dec. 14, 1867, the son of Francis E. and Anna Collins (Thurber)

Baker, he entered Brown as a special student under Prof. J. W. P. Jenks, and assisted in installing and caring for Professor Jenks' museum of natural history in Rhode Island Hall. He left at the end of the academic year 1888-89 to become Jessup student at the Academy of Sciences, Philadelphia. He continued his studies in Rochester, and at the Chicago School of Science, from which he received his Bachelor's degree in 1895.

In his professional career he was associated as lecturer or curator with the Chicago Academy of Science, Field Museum of Natural History, Syracuse University, and the Museum of Natural History at the University of Illinois, to which he went in 1918 and from which he retired in 1940. He studied paleontology at the University of Chicago and ecology at Syracuse, and served at various times with the U. S. Fish Commission, and Illinois State Natural History and Geological Surveys.

Among his books are "A Naturalist in Mexico," "Shells of Land and Water," "Life of the Pleistocene or Glacial Period," "Fresh Water Mollusca of Wisconsin," "Fieldbook of Illinois Land Snails." He also wrote numerous encyclopedic articles and scores of papers on his special subjects. The manuscript of the book he was writing at the time of his death is being prepared for publication. His wife, who was Lillian May Hall and whom he married June 16, 1892, died in 1934. During the First World War, Mr. Baker taught military hygiene and sanitation at Illinois.

1910

► REV. HARRY LEES OLDFIELD, A.B., A.M., B.D., Congregational minister, born Saylesville, R. I., Oct. 26, 1882, the son of Adam and Louisa (Colvin) Oldfield; died

"Keep Your Eye on the Ball!"

There's plenty of excitement to distract your attention these days. But if you're going to come through in good shape — even stronger, perhaps, for the experience — you need to "keep your eye on the ball".

No matter how rapidly conditions may change, thrift is always the soundest course to follow.

At Old Colony, you can save from earnings on the plan that best suits your circumstances. Save money on a weekly, monthly or irregular interval basis.

Informative leaflets are free on request. One of our friendly representatives will be glad to help you plan a personal program of systematic thrift.

OLD COLONY CO-OPERATIVE BANK

58 WEYBOSSET ST., PROVIDENCE

WONSOCKET-PAWTUCKET-WEST WARWICK-NO. PROVIDENCE

MEMBER, FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK SYSTEM

suddenly in Sayleville, May 19, 1942. He had come to see his second daughter, Louise M. Oldfield, graduated from Pembroke College on the day before his death, and to visit his mother.

From Brown, where he was active in the Brown Christian Association and a member of Sigma Nu, he entered Union Theological Seminary, graduating in 1913. He also took advanced work in philosophy at Columbia, from which he received his master's degree. From 1913 until 1924 he was English pastor of Olivet Memorial Church, New York. His work was difficult and often discouraging. The church was in a community of rapid population shifts; while Oldfield was minister he saw the Jews push out the Germans and the Irish. The Italians in turn pushed out the Jews, and the Slavs were beginning to push out the Italians when he resigned to go to the First Congregational Church, West Springfield, Mass.

Here at "The Church on the Green" he made a lasting record as minister. To the long and helpful history of the church he added a noteworthy chapter. He improved the church property, organized various auxiliaries, took special interest in young people's groups and in his church's music, and put finances on a business basis. He had an effective hand, too, in creating a more neighborly spirit among West Springfield churches. In the Connecticut Valley Brown Club he was an active officer and a loyal member. He was trustee of Mason Academy, director of West Springfield Chamber of Commerce, moderator of Hampden County Association of Churches and Ministers, president of Connecticut Valley Congregational Club, and a member of the Masons, Odd Fellows, American Legion, and the West Springfield Club, a civic group. During the First World War he served as First Lieutenant, Chaplain, U.S.A., at Fort Taylor, Ky.

On Aug. 7, 1913, he married Nellie May Beckwith, who survives, with his mother, two brothers, four sisters, and two daughters, Ruth A. Oldfield '36, and Louise M. Oldfield '42, Pembroke College.

Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

1911—Anna Canada Swain is on a nation-wide speaking tour as the new president of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society.

1911—Dr. Eva Magoon Somerville was the Vermont State delegate to the national convention of the American Osteopathic Physicians in Chicago in August and is health chairman of the St. Johnsbury (Vt.) Women's Club.

1912—Ollie Randall has taken a long vacation in Florida and elsewhere and is now completely restored to health.

1913—Elizabeth Whitman Latimer is head mistress of Brantwood Hall School for Girls, Lawrence Park, Bronxville, N. Y., which holds its charter from the Department of Education of the State of New York.

1914—Myrtle Jones is doing social work in California and can be reached at P. O. Box 321, Monterey.

1915—Helen Daniels Andrews' daughter Jean has transferred from Mt. Holyoke to Pembroke and is now a Junior.

1917—Eunice Chace Greene, author of "The Anatomy of the Rat," a 370-page volume published in 1935, has supplied a chapter on "Gross Anatomy" in a book on "The Rat in Laboratory Investigation" by a staff of 30 contributors. The book is published by Lippincott.

1919—Ruth Sword Wyman's oldest son, Hollis, Jr., is a Junior at Harvard. Ruth has completed a course in Parent Education given by the Mass. Dept. of Public Health.

1926—Helen McCarthy is now working for the Providence Journal.

1926—Eleanor Tupper was among the first 160 Founding Members of Phi Beta Kappa.

1929—Evelyn Jillson Sharpe now lives at 4386 Merrill Ave., Riverside, Calif.

1930—Jessie Nayer Douglas has moved to 878 West End Ave., New York.

1931—Dr. Hester Hastings of Randolph Macon Woman's College in Lynchburg, Virginia, represented Brown and Pembroke at the Centennial Celebration of the founding of Hollins College in Virginia.

1931—Myrtle Ryder Snyder is director of the Consumers' Information Center in Ann Arbor, which also includes the Homes' Registration Office and the War Services Information Centre. She is also consumer representative on the County Defense Council. Last year she was chairman of the AAUW Social Studies Division and on the Board of Directors of the Civic Theater and in April had a daughter.

1932—Agnes Cosgrove Thénard of Cincinnati was a recent visitor at the Alumnae Office. She had spent the summer in Ithaca, where her husband was a member of the Cornell faculty for the summer. They have now returned to the University of Cincinnati.

1933—Emily Bond Huse has changed her mailing address from Almirante, Panama to RFD 1, Laconia, N. H.

1933—Lucia Steere is now engaged in personnel work and is assistant to the employment manager at Vick's (maker of Vaporub).

1934—Marion Madeira Palmer spent the summer in Oklahoma, where her husband is in Officers Candidate School.

1934—Evelyn Freyberg Abelson has moved to 79 Oxford Place, New Rochelle.

Pembroke Chronicle ◀ ◀

BY GERTRUDE ALLEN McCONNELL

Dean Morriss Honored

▶ DEAN MORRIS has the honor of being the only woman member of the Committee on Relationships of Higher Education and the Federal Government of the American Council on Education. The other committee members are the presidents of Cornell, Harvard, Hamilton, University of Wisconsin, Illinois Institute of Technology, University of California, Villanova, New Jersey State Teachers College, Tuskegee Institute, Scranton Junior College, and the Chancellor of Vanderbilt University.

Class Notes

▶▶ 1895—Emogene Manning has moved to 29 Walnut Ave., Norwood, Mass.

1898—Ethel Jameson now lives at 158 Waterman Ave., East Providence.

1901—Alice Devereux Eddy's son, Chief Aviation Pilot Wallace Eddy, was decorated as one of the naval heroes who rescued nurses and others from Corregidor in patched up Navy patrol bombers. In the rescue trips to Australia the seaplanes broke all records for long hauls with heavy loads, making the flights after Bataan had fallen. The war correspondent who reported the exploits said: "That handful who, by the grace of God and occasional handy cloud-banks have been able to survive the darning-needle thrusts by the enemy in cannon-equipped fighter planes, with more than twice the speed of PBY Catalinas, have a separate score to settle with Japan. Even though America may still think of defeating Japan in horse-and-buggy terms of American coastal defense, these men know the reason their scouting tasks were the war's most dangerous daily job."

1902—Esther D. Griswold now lives in Kensington, Conn.

1902—Lillian Gamwell Moulton's daughter Ruth, graduated from Connecticut College in June, now has a position with the War Department in Washington.

1910—Theodora Dobler Kohler of Cincinnati represented Brown and Pembroke at the inauguration of Mary Moore Dabney Thomson as President of Western College for Women at Oxford, Ohio on May 30.

1911—Mary R. Stark '00 wrote: "I have had a real treat this summer in hearing Alice Holman Shedd address our nutrition class here in Newton on the subject of meat. Mrs. Shedd is doing efficient work as Office Director of the Nutrition Committee of the

An Ideal Christmas Gift for Sailors --- Sea Scouts --- Girl Mariners

Manufactured by E. A. Johnson Co. and on sale at Book and Gift Stores

1934—Eugenia Leonard Mitchell is living in Troy, Ohio, where her husband is connected with the Waco Aircraft Co.

1935—Pearl Miller Wilks and family are now at Spruce St., Ramsay, N. J.

1936—Clara Denham Millett and family have moved to 419 N. Chester Ave., Compton, Calif.

1936—Jane Herr Towle and her husband are living at 453 Walsh St., Chevy Chase. Dr. Towle is a lieutenant in the Dental Corps of the Navy.

1937—Lenora Grozen is doing statistical work at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

1937—Eleanor Murphy Lynch is living at 3121 Austin St., Corpus Christi, Texas, where her husband is at the Naval Air Base.

1937—Muriel Baker Stone (Mrs. Chauncey M., Jr.) is doing bacteriological work at Thorndike Memorial Laboratory of the Boston City Hospital. Her husband is finishing his third year of Medical School at Boston University. They are living at 65 Burbank St., Boston.

1938—Rita Couture is working at the Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Md.

1939—Mary McCoart is doing statistical work at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

1939—Phyllis Sampson Wallis is living at 640 Arden Ave., Glendale, Calif.

1940—Dorothy Clothier is working for the Bell Laboratories in New York.

1940—Claire Hartland is teaching economics at Wells College, Aurora, N. Y.

1940—Kaye Hunt received her Master's degree in the School of Physical Education at Smith and has been appointed an instructor there.

1940—Miriam O'Brien is attending the Nursery Training School, 355 Marlboro St., Boston.

1941—Dorothy Allen is working in the laboratory at the R. I. Hospital.

1941—Ruth Amende received her M.A. from Radcliffe and is an analyst in the Office of Strategic Services in Washington, where she is working with Prof. Armstrong. Her address is 3106 P St., NW.

1941—Stella Duff is teaching history in the Westerly High School. She lives at 140 Granite St.

1941—Mary McCooy has begun her second year as a teacher of French in the high school in Bellingham, Mass.

1941—Ruth Van Dyke is having a dramatic career in New York. She is living at the St. James Hotel, 109 West 45th St., New York.

1941—Margaret Thomson is taking the nurses' training course in Vancouver. She had been doing advertising work for a large department store.

1942

▶ AMY ABRAHAM is doing volunteer work in the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

Winifred Albro is teaching in the Coventry High School.

Anna Atkinson is working in the John Hay Library and living at 24 Congdon St.

Tamara Backman is a U. S. Civil Service Rating Examiner.

Claire Bernier is an accountant with Narragansett Electric Co.

Frieda Bojar is an assistant in the English Department at Brown.

Charlotte Borod has been appointed to train at the University of Maine as civilian inspector of Ordnance.

Chelis Bursley is working for Rheem Manufacturing Co., shipbuilders.

Gledhill Cameron is doing social work

Doris Chambers is studying at Johns Hopkins Medical School.

Anita Chase is doing war work in Newport.

Marilyn Clowes is doing clerical work for the A. O. G. Corporation, Providence.

Lucille Couture is a chemist at the Rumford Chemical Co.

Jennie Davis is teaching in the Riverside Junior High School.

Martha Easton has a position with Brown & Sharpe.

Jane Eggleston is with Time Magazine.

Alexandra Feldmahn is doing graduate work at Mt. Holyoke.

Janet Fine has a position with Employer's Insurance Co.

Ann Fitzpatrick is doing social work.

Joyce Garn is working for the Providence Journal and living at 7 Euclid Ave.

Charlotte Moin Geishman is at Camp Carson, Col., where her husband is a Lieutenant in the Medical Corps.

Demetra Halekas is in the payroll department in an Army camp which is being constructed in New England.

Jean Howard is working for the Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. in New York and is living at the Allerton Hotel.

Edith Herrmann is attending the Columbia Library School and is living at International House, 500 Riverside Drive.

Deborah Hopkins is a claims adjuster for an insurance company in Boston.

Helen Hooper has a position as chemist with United Wire Co.

Betty Housel is taking a personnel training course at Radcliffe.

Juliana Kane is a member of Filene's Training School.

Kathleen Kelly, Doris Keighley and Elizabeth Picard are working for the Narragansett Electric Co.

Dorothy Laycock is working at Gorham's.

Elizabeth Macks is working as a chemist at Lever Bros. Co., soap manufacturers.

Margaret Marlborough is teaching in the Millbury High School.

Marion Murdock is doing graduate work at Columbia, and Barbara Porter at Smith.

Katheryn O'Connor is studying at the Philadelphia Woman's Medical College and Virginia Pierson at the Yale School of Nursing.

Dorothy Rabmowitz is writing radio, magazine and newspaper advertising for Gordon Schonfarber & Associates.

Virginia Rapp is a statistician with the U. S. Rubber Co., Naugatuck, Conn.

Helen Salomon is doing social work in Pawtucket.

Selma Schlossberg is a laboratory technician at the Memorial Hospital in Pawtucket.

Mary Seothon is an assistant in the Graduate School office at Brown.

Ellen Swanson is a teaching assistant at the University of Wisconsin.

Margaret Turner is a claims adjuster for an insurance company in Chicago.

Jane Wheeler and Barbara Wiley are studying at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy.

Theresa Wiesel is working in Washington for a branch of the War Production Board. She is living at 127 B St. SE. ▶▶

Engagements

▶▶ 1934—ELIZABETH CARLY BRENNAN and Paul O'M. Conolly, Brown '36.

1937—Sara B. Cushing to Ensign Raymond Westcott, USNR.

1938—Ruth Coppen to Frank Alvin Cummings, Vermont '36. Mr. Cummings was head of the English Department at the East Greenwich Academy before joining the Army. Ruth was head of the French department in the same institution and is now in war work in Washington.

1940—Catherine Schatz to Earl Evans Brant, Brown '42. Mr. Brant is studying medicine at Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia.

1940—Ida Zimmer to Sidney Sprague, Lehigh '40. Mr. Sprague is working for his Ph.D. in chemistry at the University of Wisconsin.

1941—Ruth Alice Brown to David Edmund Evans, Brown '39.

1941—Jacquelyn Carberry to Ensign George Fletcher Boynton, USNR, a graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

1942—Clair Bernier to Robert C. Hurt, a graduate of Wooster College in Ohio and a graduate student at Brown.

1942—Helen E. Reilly to Lt. William Birkitt Williams, Brown and University of Virginia, who is with the Army Air Force.

1942—Helena Smith to Richard Gregory Dunn, U. S. Army Air Corps.

1943—Edwina Aldrich to Willis Lee Hind, Jr., George Washington University Law School.

Weddings

▶ 1924—MYRTLE PAGE HODGKINS and John Ira Coe, Sept. 5, in the Hennepin Ave. Methodist Church, Minneapolis. Address: 1916 Delaware St., Minneapolis, Minn.

1930—Helen Elizabeth Riley and John Swift Hebbard, Aug. 22, in Worcester. Mr. Hebbard is a graduate of Mt. Hermon School and Clark University. Address: 1654 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

1931—Enis De Magistis and Lieut. Manrico P. DiFusco in April. Address: Fort Adams, R. I.

advertisers engraving company

126 DORRANCE ST. PROVIDENCE, R. I.

TELEPHONE GASPEE 7094

"Picturize your Product"

BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY

1932 Mary J. Lally and Brendan J. Murphy, June 20. Mr. Murphy is a member of the Coast Guard. Address: 18 Ansel Ave., Providence.

1933- Ruth Carol Hussey and Robert Longenecker, Penn. State '32, Aug. 9 in the desert Indian Mission at Pala, Calif. Mr. Longenecker was a radio executive before entering the service. Address: 10485 Lindbrook Drive, West Los Angeles, Calif.

1933- Barbara Kempton and Lt. John H. D. Lawrence, Dartmouth '28, June 19. Address: 483 Hope St., Providence.

1935 Elizabeth R. Blanchard and Dr. John O. Nolan '36, Sept. 3. Dr. Nolan received his M.D. from Tufts in 1940 and is a 1st lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps. Betty Brennan '34 was one of the bridesmaids. Address: 644 Main St., Pawtucket.

1935 Miriam Snow and John Granville Rideout, Sept. 12 in Taunton. Mr. Rideout, a graduate of Colby and Oxford, has done graduate work at Brown. He is now teaching in the English Department at Wells College, Aurora, N. Y.

1935 Mary Beston Fullerton and Capt. Jerome J. Oleksiw, Aug. 2 in Alexandria, Va. Capt. Oleksiw is a graduate of Cornell and did graduate work at M. I. T. and Harvard. He is the Ordnance Officer of the Troop Carrier Command, Stout Field, Indianapolis. Address: 37 East Maple Rd., Indianapolis.

1936 Barbara Johnson and Charles Caldwell Ware, Sept. 12, in the Church of the Mediator, Providence. Betty Hussey '39 was maid of honor. Mr. Ware, a graduate of North Carolina State College, is a chemist in New York. Address: 73 12 35th Ave., Jackson Heights, L. I.

1936 Priscilla Greenya and Lt. William Henty Harrison Eishback, M. I. T., June 6. Address: 93 Wood St., Providence.

1937- Margaret Caswell, daughter of Robert G. Caswell '11 and Mrs. Caswell, and Lt. Merwyn Gifford Lewis, RAF Pilot, in the Morning Chapel, Salisbury Cathedral, Salisbury, England. Margaret has been a bacteriologist with the Harvard Unit for the past two years.

1937-Dr. Alice Kechjian and Dr. John Banderian, April 4. She is specializing in anaesthesia at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

1938 Francoise Archambault to Lt. Charles Henry Anderson, Brown '37, Aug. 9. Lieut. Anderson is a graduate of the Boston U. Law School and is with the Field Artillery at Camp Maxey. Address: 155 North 27th St., Paris, Texas.

1938 Ruth Pember and Rev. Harold Rushton Bell, Aug. 8, in St. Stephen's Church, Elmsire, N. Y. Mr. Bell is a member of the staff of the New York Protestant Episcopal City Mission Society and is Chaplain at Grasslands Hospital and the Westchester County Home and Penitentiary.

1939 Mildred Hannah Carleen and Lt. Gould Kenneth Hulke, Jr., Aug. 11. Lt. Hulke is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art and of the Anti-aircraft Artillery Candidate School at Camp Davis, N. C.

1939 Claire Harrington and Lt. Charles Henry Mullen, Brown '39, July 21 in Fall River. Lt. Mullen is in the Signal Corps.

1939 Olga Louis and Dr. Raymond Zagraniski, June 21. Dr. Zagraniski received his M.D. from Yale in June and is

ALUMNAE HONOR ROLL

W A A C S

Johanna Magyar '33
Los Burlingame '34
Alberta Holdsworth '36
Lydia Buggs '40
Ruth Mann '40

W A V E S

Lt. (jg) Dorothy Osborne '24
Florence Campbell '33
Marjorie Hargreaves '36
Elizabeth Fowler '37
Frances Cobb '38
Jeanne Max '39
Mary Louise Skaggs '40
Celeste Griffin '41
Helen Hunter '41
Dorothy Braggdon '42
Ann Plankenhorn '42
Virginia Thomas '42

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUNDS

Mabel Harrington '17
Frances Wright '23
Barbara Bilsborough '38
Rita Couture '38
Grace Harris '38

SIGNAL CORPS

Belinda Snow '26
Doris Denning '30
Jean Ashbury '36
Ruth Coppen '38
Martha Ahlman '39
Marguerite Robertson '39

AMERICAN RED CROSS

Ruth Sittler '33
Dorthea Hess '38

HARVARD OVERSEAS

MEDICAL UNIT
Winifred Small '35
Margaret Caswell Lewis '37

STATISTICIANS (Ft. Monmouth, N. J.)

Lenora Grozen '37
Mary McCoart '39

U. S. ARMY NURSES

Mildred Peirce '35
Alma Stone '35
Eunice Smith '37

ORDNANCE

Charlotte S. Borod '42

an intern at the Medical Center in Syracuse. Olga received her degree from Yale School of Nursing and is a supervisor at the City Hospital for Communicable Diseases. Address: 729 Irving Ave., Syracuse.

1939- Tina M. Sammartino and Raymond S. Penza, Brown '39, July 18. Address: 51 Summit St., Brookline, Mass.

1940- Kathryn Bettrian and Lt. William Sandager, Jr., R. I. State '35, June 29. Address: General Delivery, Hamilton, R. I.
1940- Virginia Carr and Marcus V. Becker, Syracuse '36, April 11. Mr. Becker is working for the War Production Board in Washington. Address: 1341 Saratoga Ave., N. E., Washington, D. C.

1940 Elizabeth Ibell and Ensign Sawyer Eldredge Medbury, Brown '40, June 9. Address: 177 S. Highland St., West Hartford, Conn.

1941 Ruth P. Harris and W. Irving Wolf, Jr. in the Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, July 2. Flora Lazarus '43 was bridesmaid. Address: 218 Waterman St., Providence.

1941 Mary Wood Hurlin and Lt. William King Glen, Brown '41, in the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, June 25. She is the daughter of Ralph G.

Hurlin '12 and Helen Wood Hurlin '14. Lt. Glen is an instructor in the Marine Air Corps in Illinois.

1941 Elsie R. Hurst and Lt. Edward W. Hale, Brown '40, in Christ Episcopal Church, West Englewood, N. J., June 20, 1942.

1941 Dorothy Ann Nelson and Lt. William Agnew McClelland, Brown '41, Sept. 16, in Miami Beach, Florida.

1942 Gertrude Carolyn Mann and James G. Lukens, Brown '42, June 27, in the Monterey Hotel, Asbury Park, N. J. Address: 375 Wychwood Road, Westfield, N. J.

Births

► 1925 To Dr. and Mrs. William Rodger Gilmour (Marjorie Roach), a third son, George Arthur, Aug. 14. Address: 6616 Woodland Ave., Philadelphia.

1925 To Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Lundgren (Hope Baker), a daughter, Janice Hope, March 18. Address: 109 Wilson Ave., Rumford.

1927 To Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Warfield (Katharine Patton), a daughter, Lois Jeanne, June 23. Address: 1 Oxford Terrace, Lynn, Mass.

1928 To Mr. and Mrs. Carlton H. Bliss (Ethel McKechnie), a son, Robert Cameron, June 19. Address: 92 High St., North Attleboro.

1931 To Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Eldridge (Estelle Moore), a daughter, Carolyn Estelle, Sept. 3. Robert is four. Address: P. O. Box 325, Madison, Conn.

1931 To Capt. and Mrs. Marshall Snyder (Myrtle Ryder), a third child and second daughter, Jane Mallory, April 4. Address: 1111 Michigan Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich.

1934 To Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Silverman (Muriel Smira), a daughter, Lois Carol Beth, March 21. Address: 67 Eldredge Ave., East Greenwich.

1936- To Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Pearson (Virginia Taylor), a second son, Stuart Robin, July 13. Address: 3675 Normandie Road, Shaker Heights, Cleveland, Ohio.

1937- To Mr. and Mrs. George E. Murocft (Ruth Godfrey), a son, Albert George, Sept. 6. Address: 154 Narragansett St., Edgewood.

1941- To Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Viall (Grace Hundt), a son, Charles Carpenter Viall, Jr., July 17. Address: 120 Vine St., East Providence.

Anne W. Carpenter '98

► ANNE W. CARPENTER '98, head of the English department in Cranston High School for many years, as well as the school librarian, died in the Homeopathic Hospital in Providence Aug. 23, 1942 following an operation.

Miss Carpenter, the daughter of the late John W. Carpenter and Sarah Fuller Carpenter, was born in Providence. She prepared for college at English High School. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and of Alpha Beta sorority. Miss Carpenter received her A.M. from Brown in 1902 and began teaching at Wheaton the following year. She also taught in Glens Falls, N. Y., Stockbridge, Mass., and the Fielden Chace School before going to Cranston in 1910.

Miss Carpenter was an active member of the Alumnae Association and had served it in many ways.

Miss Carpenter is survived by her sister, Mrs. Willard H. Bacon of Westerly. Mr. Caleb A. Fuller '99, husband of Charlotte Anthony Fuller '03, is a cousin.

Wartime readjustments . . . #1

GUYAS
WILLIAMS

THE EASBYS ENJOYED ALL THE DISCOMFORTS
OF VACATION — RIGHT IN THEIR OWN BACK YARD

WAR calls for all kinds of family adjustments — some amusing, some not. But they do bring a new sense of values.

Most families are learning to know each other better—to live more simply—to do without little luxuries in order to take care of big necessities.

That usually means War Bonds first—then life insurance. Both are certain investments in an uncertain world. Both help check inflation. Both boost the war effort, for a good part of each insurance premium goes into Government securities.

Families need the protection of life insurance today more than ever before. No other purchase provides so much protection for so few dollars. Let one of our Career Underwriters show you how New England Mutual's contract helps to finance itself through times when premium payments may be more difficult than usual.

Here are some of the advantages of a New England Mutual contract

1. DIVIDENDS begin at the end of the first year.
2. CASH VALUES begin at the end of the second year.
3. A PREMIUM LOAN is available toward payment of the second annual premium.
4. CONVERSION to Retirement Income or higher premium plans requires the payment of difference in reserves only.

Here's help with your adjustments!

It's easy to agree that family readjustments must be made in time of war. But it's not always so easy to make them as Mr. Williams' cartoons suggest.

You can count on some real help, however, from any of the men listed below. They're alumni of your college and they talk your language. They are also trained representatives of the First Mutual Life Insurance Company Chartered in America.

Out of their experience you'll get practical, constructive suggestions. They'll help you make the most of your limited life insurance dollars—help you protect your present policies with premium loans if necessary.

Check your protection now when you need it most. If none of these men is near you, you can get similar service at the New England Mutual office in your city.

FRED W. WOODCOCK, '91, Boston

E. EVERETT HARKNESS, '05, Hartford

PAUL O. CURTIS, '15, Gen. Agt., Boston

STEPHEN W. HOPKINS, '21,
New York City

HUGH ROBERTSON, '21, Boston

EDWIN A. COLE, JR., '24, Boston

RICHARD W. PARTRIDGE, '24,
Gen. Agt., Boston

DAVID LANDOW, '31, New Haven

ALBERT H. CURTIS, II, '40, Boston

We're making readjustments, too. With some 15% of our field force now in military service, we have real opportunities for able men in several cities.

If you're interested in a satisfying career where you can be your own boss—and if your draft status is reasonably assured—we'd like to talk things over. Or perhaps you have a friend who might appreciate the tip.

In either case, just write to Wm. Eugene Hays (Stanford '26), 501 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass., for information. There's no obligation, of course.

New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston

George Willard Smith, President

Agencies in Principal Cities Coast to Coast

THE FIRST MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY CHARTERED IN AMERICA—1835

Karl H. Koopman
The Citadel
Charleston, S. C.

He's firing telephone wire at a Zero!

This fighter plane, with its six wing guns spitting fire, uses up enough copper every minute to make several miles of telephone line.

That's the right use for copper now — and it's the reason why we can't continue to expand our facilities to take care of the expanding Long Distance telephone traffic.

Right now, our lines are flooded with Long Distance calls. Most of them have to do with the war — they must have the right of way.

Will you help us keep the wires clear for war calls — industrial calls that send a plane down the assembly line — military calls that send it into the air against the enemy?

You can do it by keeping your own calls as few and as brief as possible. And you'll be bringing Victory that much nearer.

Bell Telephone System

